LABOR HOSTS OPEN WEEK'S CELEBRATION WITH PARADE

Celebration Of Labor Week Is Now Under Way

Labor Day Events Give Auspicious Start To Special Week's Program

RAIN HIT PAGEANT PLANS SATURDAY

Large Crowds Share In Labor Day Observance On Monday

Labor opened its week of celebration in New Castle on Monday, September 6, with a Labor Day program that was colorful, significant and complete. From 10 o'clock in the morning until midnight there was a continual program of events all pointed towards the dignity of labor, offering a diversification that appealed to every taste.

At 10:30 a parade of labor unions, civic bodies and floats moved out from the corner of Moravia street and Long avenue up Long to Mill, over Grove to Washington, down Washington to Jefferson and down Jefferson street to the central fire station where the parade disbanded.

Afternoon Of Speaking

In the afternoon a mass meeting was held at the Rosena furnace grounds on South Mill street at which a number of men prominent in government and labor circles delivered addresses. At 6:30 Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy was the guest of honor at a dinner in The Castleton Hotel and at 8 o'clock the pageant got under way at Taggart stadium. Miss Violet Frankovich the Queen of Labor was

PA NEWC OBSERVES

When you sit down to eat a meal a thousand miles from home, turn up your plate and find that it was made by the Shenango Pottery in New Castle, there is an instant flow of gastric juice, and you are ready for anything the waiter may serve. So says Edwin O. Reed, welfare director of Lawrence county, who with his family, has just returned from an eastern trip. It was at Hampton Beach, Me., that Reed made the happy discovery of Shenango china. Along with him were his wife, Mary P. Reed, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dickson, of Ellwood City. They had a great time touring New York, Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. They climbed Bunker Hill and viewed Plymouth Rock where the Pilgrims landed in 1620. Reed says that he was disappointed in the rock as we have bigger ones at home. It looked like a big round "hardhead" to him and had an umbrella-like covering. He had always supposed that the Pilgrims actually landed on the rock, but he found it more of a sign post than dock.

M-e-o-w, m-e-o-w, cried a little half starved kitten, as it dodged the feet of pedestrians on North Mill street. Fear was in its eyes; its sides were gaunt. The crowd took little heed. "Only another stray cat," they thought. But kittie's forlorn cries touched the heart of a child, a little girl, about six years old. With a nickle which

Huge Crowds See Labor Day Parade

Labor was on parade in New Castle Monday, Labor Day, and today Labor Week celebration and exposition is in full progress. The parade yesterday was the largest that labor has had here for a full score years and it might be said that the crowd which turned out to see labor march was the biggest in that number of years.

The parade started from Moravia street and Long avenue about 11:15 a. m. There were several bands, fife and drum corps, numerous beautiful floats and decorated automobiles in the parade, as well as hosts of marchers.

Huge crowds watched the parade in Long avenue, Mill, and Washington streets, and also in Jefferson street.

The parade was escorted by Chief of Police Ralph Criswell in a cruiser car, which was preceded by a motorcycle policeman. Mayor Chas. E. McGrath and other city and county officials also were in the parade.

Labor Week Pageant Thrills First Night Crowd At Stadium

Labor Day night was a gala time for people who visited Taggart stadium because they witnessed one of the most beautiful spectacles that has yet been presented in this city, the Labor Week historical pageant. It was an affair that held the interest of the crowd until the grand finale. Scenes, historical and interesting to the crowd, were presented, likewise beautifully gowned girls, sturdy men, good dance acts and presentations that carried some of the older folks back to fond memories of their elders. Those who witnessed the Labor Week pageant came away feeling they had well spent their time in witnessing the spectacle.

When the powerful floodlights were turned on, one of the prettiest natural stages to be found anywhere was seen. The green carpet of grass provided a picture for an artist. Midway to the beautiful

Italy-Russia Near Rupture

Diplomatic Relations May Be Affected By Soviet Charges

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Sept. 7.—Rupture of diplomatic relations between Italy and Russia was believed probable today following Soviet charges that Italian submarines torpedoed two Russian merchant ships.

Well informed diplomatic circles stated Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano's blunt rejection of the Soviet note, in which the charges were contained, was cast in such forthright terms that it amounts to a diplomatic slap in the face.

Today Italian officials, making no effort to conceal their anger at the Soviet Union, impatiently awaited the next Russian step. They ex-

Find Bodies Of Two Brothers

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 7.—The bodies of two brothers, missing since Saturday, were recovered here today.

The boys, Arnold Boyce, 7, and his brother, Robert, 10, had been drowned in Lake Erie. Authorities said the brothers apparently had been washed into the lake by a large wave while walking along the shore. They had started out to look for their father with whom they were on a camping trip. The bodies were found on the shore near the camp.

Teachers Meet This Morning

Have Session Prior To Opening Of School On Wednesday For Year

DR. J. RALPH NEALE MAKES ADDRESS

Meeting in the Senior high school auditorium this morning teachers of the New Castle public schools started their year's work with a general get-together for the purpose of instruction in the opening of the classes which takes place Wednesday, September 8.

With a few exceptions all of the teachers and principals of the system were present this morning. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent, welcomed the old teachers back to their tasks and spoke also to the new teachers who are just entering the service as teachers. He then introduced Dr. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church.

Conducts Devotions

Dr. Neale conducted the devotional period and also delivered the address of the morning. His topic, "Vocational Guidance," stressed the importance of this work in the public schools and the rich field of endeavor it offered to teachers who were sympathetic to the ideals and ideas of the young children in their care.

Following the meeting a group of

Three Detroit Men Drown As Plane Plunges Into Lake Erie

DIVER IN EFFORT TO LOCATE BODIES

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—Bodies of three Detroit flyers who died in a crash into Lake Erie off Point Pelee yesterday were sought by Diver George Cook today.

The flyers, identified by three leather windbreakers, a package of matches and a gold aviator's pin washed up from the 15 feet of water into which the Waco biplane crashed were:

Former air mail pilot James Munro, at the controls at the time of the crash.

Owner Harry H. Corley, 36.

Student pilot Jerome Tessens.

The three flyers were en route to the Cleveland air races from Mt. Clemens when their plane, its motor stilled, glided into the water and sank.

Canadian Coastguardsman Ersal Ashton, in the Point Pelee station lookout tower, said he saw the red, silver-winged plane glide towards shore silently.

"I saw the plane coming in, rapidly losing altitude," he said. "It hit the water and came to rest.

"I saw a man get out of the cockpit and climb out onto one of the wings. Then the plane sank and the man vanished."

Shanghai Populace Flees Bombs

Looking down on the Garden bridge in Shanghai, some of the 1,000,000 refugees from the native quarters of the stricken city are shown seeking the comparative safety of the International Settlement. Holiday Crashes In State Cause Sixteen Deaths

Many Accidents Occur In State During Last Summer Holiday

(International News Service)

Pennsylvania highways, jammed to the saturation point with thousands of motorists bound for vacation resorts and Labor Day celebrations on the last week-end holiday of the summer, were the scenes of innumerable accidents which cost at least sixteen lives over the week-end, an International News Service checkup disclosed today.

Samuel Capone, 52, Palmyra, N. J., and his two year-old son, Louis, were killed yesterday when their automobile was struck by a railroad train at an East Riverton, N. J. crossing.

Miss Marie Dougherty, 23, Philadelphia, died of a skull fracture after a fall from an automobile near Clifton Heights.

Max Cherry, 39, Philadelphia, was killed by a hit-and-run motorist while walking near his home.

In the Central Pennsylvania area one woman was killed and 11 persons injured in highway accidents over the holiday.

Mrs. Joseph Miller, of Martinsburg, W. Va., was killed instantly in a three-car collison ear Hummelstown.

Joseph Miller, the dead woman's husband, and Mrs. Ethel Price, also of Martinsburg, were injured ser-

President Back From Yacht Trip

Returns To Hyde Park From Five Day Fishing Cruise Over Holiday

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y. Sept. 7—President Roosevelt brought a five-day fishing cruise to an end this morning as his yacht Potomac entered the upper branches of the Hudson.

Word from the yacht was that Mr. Roosevelt would land at Poughkeepsie in time to motor to his home here for lunch. He will remain at the estate another week before returning to Washington.

During the next seven days, the President will have an excellent opportunity to map out the "intake" swing to the Pacific coast he plans later in the month.

Also, he may work out the outline of the constitution day speech he is to make September 17 from Washington over a national radio hookup.

Teacher Files Court Appeal

Plaingrove Township Teacher To Have Hearing On Next Monday

CONTESTS ACTION TAKEN BY BOARD

The Plaingrove township school board is defendant in a suit filed in the Lawrence county court by Prof. Louis R. Kiebler, a teacher, who claims that he was dismissed by the board, after he had entered into a contract to teach the ensuing school term.

Kiebler claims that he was a teacher in the Plaingrove schools during the 1936-1937 term. At the conclusion of his term the school board entered into another contract which he was to teach the 1937-'38 term, eight months at $100 per month. This contract, dated May 5, he says, was signed by T. G. Shaw, president of the board, and was witnessed by C. B. McCommon, secretary, for the school board, and by John Dight, for professional employees.

About June 21, Kiebler alleges that he received through the mail, a letter signed by President Shaw, and attested by C. B. McCommon voiding the contract but saying that he was entitled to a hearing. The reason for the voidance of the contract was given as "incompetence and wilful and persistent negligence."

John W. Wherry, attorney for Kiebler, wrote the board for a specific statement of charges. On Juy 31 a hearing was held at which the school board was represented by Attorney Thomas W. Dickey and Kiebler by Wherry. Two witnesses appeared for the school board, the principal of the Plaingrove schools and the county superintendent. Kiebler denied the charges and took the position that the dismissal was premature, since a new contract had been signed, and any charges would be waived by this contract.

The board refused for accede from their position and Kiebler appealed to court, on the grounds that he had a valid contract, and that the dismissal was illegal and unwarranted. Next Monday has been set for hearing the case.

Report Chinese Squad Plans To Bomb Tokyo

By M. C. FORD
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1937)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—Four hundred "suicide" Chinese fliers volunteered their services today in a sensational plan to bomb Tokyo from the air in retaliation for the havoc wreaked upon Shanghai.

An appeal for volunteers resulted in immediate and overwhelming response. The four hundred "dare to die" warriors offered to sacrifice their lives in the undertaking. Officials warned them that their chances of returning safely are virtually nill.

Coincident with this development, Japanese warships and artillery resumed their pounding at dusk in an attempt to avenge failure of their infantry to crush Chinese resistance in the chapel and Kiangwan sectors.

The number of volunteers so far exceeded expectations that officials immediately began a process of eliminaton

To begin with, they compelled any brothers who volunteered to draw lots for the privilege of sudden death in order that parents would not be deprived of all their sons.

A gigantic squadron of ten huge bombing planes is being made ready for the daring raid. The first objectives will be Japanese munitions plants and troop centers, to be followed by a devasting attack upon the capital.

Labor Day Speakers Commend Labor Act

Several hundred persons heard labor speeches, tinged with praise for the Democratic party, on the Rosena ground Monday afternoon. The addresses were delivered by Levi Lichliter, chairman of the state labor relations board, Lester Thomas, secretary of the state A. F. of L., Attorney Ray Humphreys of Ellwood City; and also Attorney M. A. Barletta of Ellwood City.

After being introduced by Norman Freeborne, president of the Trades & Labor assembly, Attorney Humphreys termed Labor Day one of the most important days of the year. He said that following speakers would discuss the State labor act and how it functions.

Lichliter followed. He said he was happy to be here to help celebrate Labor Day. He told of Peter Maguire's efforts to have Labor Day legalized, which congress did in 1895. Maguire, he said died penniless and Lichliter urged that all should be appreciative of Maguire's efforts and protect labor where it needs protection.

Says Party Has Made Good

He said he was happy to have been introduced as a Democrat because the party has made good. He said the labor act was passed by the most liberal legislature the state has had. It was passed June 2, and immediately became effective.

He declared it was passed to protect workers against unfair practices and added that relatively speaking it gives the workers in Pennsylvania the same protection as the Wagner act gives other employes. He said there have been employers who did

Child Dies Of Auto Injuries

Is Crushed Between Delivery Truck And Post At Noon Saturday

DIES IN HOSPITAL AT ELLWOOD CITY

Little Norman Androla, aged 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Androla of R. F. D. No. 2, Wampum, died in the Ellwood City hospital at 4 p. m. Saturday of injuries received at noon, when he was crushed between a delivery truck and post, near his home.

According to the story told Coroner Orville Potter, Clair D. Habbyshaw, of Wampum, was delivering groceries to the district between Wampum and Crescentdale, known as Cement Hill, and was backing out of the driveway of a home. The little fellow was leaning up against a post and was not noticed by Habbyshaw, the truck crushing him against it.

He was taken to a doctor's office in Wampum, who ordered the child taken to the hospital, where he died a few hours later, having suffered internal and head injuries.

Coroner Potter plans to conduct an inquest in the case this week.

The little boy leaves his parents, a twin sister Norma, and two brothers, Ernest and Harold.

This morning at 10 o'clock a requiem mass was celebrated in St. Monica's church, Wampum, by Rev. Fr. F. A. Maloney and interment followed in Locust Grove cemetery, Ellwood City.

Pallbearers were Everett Huffman, George Ault, Jr., William Androla, Jr., and Ralph Allen.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—While steady cannonading raged on Shanghai's war front, Japanese airplanes winged southward today and bombed two Chinese customs ships off Ningpo, killing one Chinese and wounding six.

Young Democrats Honor Kennedy

Lieut. Governor Is Guest At Dinner Event On Monday Night

Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy was honored Monday evening in the Castleton hotel when a dinner was tendered him by the Young Democrats of Lawrence county with Joseph Hensley, president of the club, in charge as toastmaster.

The dinner was of an informal nature with only one address, that of Mr. Kennedy. Other impromptu remarks were made by the guests present.

"This is a great day for labor," said Lieutenant-Governor Kennedy. "Back of this day lies a brilliant record of achievement in the past few years. Ahead lies a gigantic task in the solution of the problem of the distribution of the national income. Here in America we have solved the question of production, now we must solve the question of distribution of income."

Because Mr. Kennedy had to be at Taggart stadium at 8 o'colck to participate in the pageant taking place there, it was necessary to adjourn the dinner. It was a pleasant affair and filled in a convenient manner the time between Mr. Kennedy's arrival in New Castle and his appearance at the stadium.

China Will Not Remove Troops From Pootung

Blames Japan For Situation In Reply To U. S., Great Britain And French Pleas

REQUEST MADE TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Shanghai Area Will Continue To Be Danger Spot For All Residents

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Chinese government today rejected the appeal of the consuls-general of the United States, Great Britain and France that Chinese troops be withdrawn from Pootung, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the exchange telegraph company.

The tri-partite request, contingent upon the withdrawal of Japanese warships a mile down stream from Shanghai, was made with the object of removing the danger to residents of foreign areas from constant Sino-Japanese shelling.

Blame Japanese

In replying, the Chinese government blamed the Japanese for turning Shanghai into a battleground, and declared firing in the international settlement last Friday was due to the efforts of Japanese to land troops at Pootung.

The Chinese suggested that the foreign consuls-general should first persuade the Japanese to withdraw their warships and troops from the Shanghai area, after which the Nanking government would be prepared to consider the question further.

Two Children Thought Slain Are Found Alive

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Unaware they were believed slain by a man whose vague "confession" prompted a manhunt for them, two children returned safely to their home here today, switching all police efforts to investigation of the mysterious death of five-year-old Nancy Glenn.

The suspect, Philip Krho, 27, earlier had told Mayor S. Davis Wilson that he had thrown the children into the Schuylkill river. He was arrested early today after the body of five-year-old Nancy Glenn was found in a mud-filled hole in an isolated section of North Philadelphia.

Circumstances surrounding the finding of brother and sister were not immediately made public. The children, according to a police sergeant, have rejoined their parents at home.

So ho for the spellers and 'rithmetics and for English and art hey hey, the schools are ready and so are the kids, and its seventy three today.

Russians In Mass Demonstrations

Highly Aroused Over Sub Attacks

Marching Thousands Take Part In Demonstrations In All Parts Of Soviet

GRIM WARNING GIVEN TO ITALY

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 7.—With Russo-Italian relations strained near the explosion point, hundreds of thousands of Russians throughout the union—except in Moscow—paraded and demonstrated today to show their "boundless wrath and indignation against piratical acts in the Mediterranean."

Accusation by the Soviet government that Italian submarines torpedoed and sank two Russian merchant vessels inflamed the U. S. S. R. to a high pitch of excitement and rage, inflamed even more by Italy's rejection of the charges.

Everywhere the parades were held the demonstrators pledged themselves to "be ready at any moment to rise and defend the socialist fatherland."

Uncounted thousands took part in the demonstrations. At Kiev alone 150,000 persons marched and shouted threats. Another 100,00 paraded at Sverdlovsk. The demonstrations, though ostensibly aimed at Mediterranean "piracy," were obviously intended as a grim warning to Italy.

crowned by Lieutenant-Governor Kennedy and the pageant followed.

Historically accurate and competently presented the pageant offers an evening's entertainment that is well worth the time and money required to see it. The pageant will continue nightly through Thursday night at the stadium.

During the afternoon and evening the exposition on the Rosena grounds was under way with thousands of merry makers enjoying themselves on the rides and shows. It is the fun element of the labor week celebration and from the entrance to the far end it is "all in fun."

Trades And Labor Assembly Directs

Labor Day in New Castle was one to be remembered for its size and arrangement of the celebration. For weeks the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly has been devoting day and night to the plans for this week of celebration and if the Weather Man carries a union card he will be of large assistance in making the week the success it deserves.

The preview of the pageant which was scheduled for Saturday night had to be postponed due to exceptionally heavy rains which continued intermittently all afternoon and through the evening. At 5 o'clock it was apparent that a presentation of the pageant would be impossible both from the performers and spectators standpoints and reluctantly it was called off.

The Soviet note, in addition to charging two Soviet vessels had been sunk by Italian submersibles, demanded damages and punishment of the guilty officials. Italy rejected all charges and demands. As a result of the controversy it appeared unlikely Italy would participate in the forthcoming conference on "piracy" in the Mediterranean.

Potato control experts in Washington are about as hard to kill as potato bugs. A year ago they had a pipe dream about controlling the potato crop, but the farmers raised such a howl, that it was dropped for the time being at least. But now the potato hatchers are at it again and are suggesting control of the crop for next year. It might not be as hard to accomplish as killing little pigs, as there would be no bloodshed, but it's certainly going to raise some dandruff among the farmers. When it comes to the point where a farmer is to be told how many hills of potatoes he can plant, there's likely to be a revival of some of the spirit of '76.

A traffic light flashed green on Washington street. In the front line was a woman driver. She stalled her car. Instantly from behind her came the honk, honk of male drivers, blowing singly and in concert; a great commotion, while the now thoroughly nervous woman struggled with her car which she got started just as the light turned red, and behind her she could hear those male drivers cussing. In the so-called dark ages men would risk their lives to rescue a woman's glove from the lion's cage. Those were the days of chivalry.

The court house hill is pretty hard to navigate during a storm. At the bend near the court house the water from the south side of the street, joins that from the north, and in its hurry to get down to Washington street, it jumps the curb and floods the sidewalk near McCann's shoe shop. There should be a higher curb or the water should be taught better manners.

Some idea of the parts of the United States represented in the heavy traffic through this district can be gained from a look at cars parked side by side on the public square at one time on Sunday afternoon. They carried licenses from North Carolina, Seattle, Wash., Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania.

Congestion in traffic going through the city that resulted over the Labor Day period, emphasizes the wisdom of the move to route traffic down Jefferson street and across the new highway over the Rosena grounds to the east side, as soon as plans can be completed for the move.

One of the marked features of the parade on Labor Day was the efficiency of traffic arrangements by the police department. Officer Thomas Jones was placed in charge of keeping the parade route clear for the marchers and he did a splendid job. At no time was the line of march impeded by spectators, they were kept back far enough to permit freedom of movement and the marchers remarked at the efficiency of it all.

Deaths of the Day

Thomas Stitt Funeral.

Funeral services for Thomas L. Stitt, of Mt. Vernon, O., were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon from the home of his son, Clare Stitt, East Brook road.

Rev. Samuel Baker, of Clifton Flats Mission, was in charge of the services. With his wife and Mrs. J. A. Baker he sang two touching numbers, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "We'll Say Good Night Here and Good Morning Up There."

Full military honors was given the deceased by the American Legion. The commander was N. P. Nelson, the acting chaplain, Orville Potter, the buglers, David Cramer and Harold Miles, and the pallbearers, Walter Dietterle, Ross Fredericks, James Brice, Thomas Edmunds, George Flack and William Vogan, all of the Legion. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Services For Robert J. Totten.

Services for Robert J. Totten, well known resident of New Wilmington, were conducted from the Campbell funeral home, this city, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Wilson Reed and Rev. J. Ralph Neale, D. D., both of New Wilmington.

The impressive rites were largely attended and there were many beautiful baskets and sprays of flowers sent by the host of Mr. Totten's friends in the surrounding community.

A short service was also conducted at the grave in beautiful Forest Lawn cemetery, Youngstown, O., where interment was made.

Honorary pallbearers were John H. Clease, James L. Coulter, William Jenkins, G. V. Hamory, Joseph Myers, Walter C. Sewall and John H. Evans. Active pallbearers were Paul Capitolo, John Hodge, Robert Hoose, L. J. Cartwright, E. A. Brookover and L. E. Laurell.

Mrs. Catherine Anna Miller

Mrs. Catherine Anna Miller, aged 74 years, widow of Jacob J. Miller, died suddenly at about 6:30 p. m. Monday at her home, 309 State street, the result of a heart attack. Until a short time before her death she had appeared to be in her usual health and had been walking in the garden of her home.

Mrs. Miller was born in West Virginia on May 11, 1863, daughter of Lewis and Margaret Kaufman Geibel. New Castle had been her home since the year 1889. Her husband preceded her in death in July, 1927.

The deceased had a great many friends in this community. She had long been a member of the Protected Home Circle.

Surviving are three children: I. W. Miller, C. E. Miller and Mrs. Elmer Ferrell, this city; three grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, one brother, John Geibel, of Buchanan, W. Va., and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Fankhauser, Parkersburg, W. Va., Mrs. Blanche Lowers and Mrs. William Marlow, this city.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, with Rev. Harold A. McCurdy, Epworth M. E. minister, in charge. Interment will be made in Graceland.

Mrs. Lila A. Brown.

Mrs. Lila A. Brown, aged 94 years, widow of Joseph M. Brown, died in the Almira Home on Sunday morning at 1 o'clock, following a lingering illness brought on by old age.

Mrs. Brown was born in Pulaski, Lawrence county, on March 24, 1843, daughter of a pioneer couple, Hamilton and Sarah Cooper Houston. She was a member of the First U. P. church of New Castle.

Her only survivors are several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted at Almira Home this morning at 10 o'clock and interment was made in Hopewell cemetery, New Bedford.

Funeral Of Mrs. Nye.

A great many friends from her home community, from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Beaver Falls, Monaca and New Castle attended funeral services for the late Mrs. Eva Crum Nye, widow of Dr. Hiram Nye, conducted at the residence in Enon Valley on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Andrew J. Koonce, pastor of the Enon Valley Presbyterian church, was in charge.

Pallbearers were Bruce Wallace, Dr. Mechem, Harry Merriman, Frank Robertson, Frank and Donald Freed. Interment was made in Little Beaver cemetery.

Mrs. William G. Armor.

Mrs. Ella D. Armor, aged 72 years, died at the residence, 1708 Delaware avenue, at 3:30 p. m. Saturday after a long illness.

The deceased was born on October 17, 1864, at Pittsburgh, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Munslow Cook. New Castle was her home for many years past and she was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, King's Daughters, Wimodausis and Order of Eastern Star, New Castle chapter No. 105.

She leaves her husband, a daughter, Edna M., at home; two sons, Clarence E. of Philadelphia and Raymond of Ingram, Pa.; two grandchildren, Raymond Armor, Jr., and Ella Florence Allen, and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Schimmelfeder of Denver, Colo.

Last evening at the residence the Order of Eastern Star conducted its impressive service. Further rites are being conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the First Methodist minister, Rev. N. A. White, D. D., assisted by Rev. Abram P. Shaffer, pastor of the West Pittsburg M. E. church. Interment will follow in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Fannie Cohen.

Mrs. Fannie Cohen, aged about 80 years, widow of Isaac Cohen, died at her home, 1118 Sciota street, on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Cohen was born in Russia but had been in New Castle for the last 55 years of her life. She was a member of Tifereth Israel synagogue.

One son, H. J. Cohen of New Castle, and three grandchildren survive.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the late residence with Rabbi Cecil Shenson in charge. Pallbearers were members of the congregation.

Pasquale Cappatt

Pasquale Cappatt, aged 69 years, died at his West Pittsburg home at about a quarter to five Monday evening after an extended illness.

He lived in West Pittsburg for the past 42 years and was a laborer for the Garland Manufacturing Company. He married Mary Germanero and is survived by her and the following children: Mrs. Mary Carploita, Mrs. Catherine Nerti, Mrs. Flora Marcantino and Nellie Cappatt of West Pittsburg; Charles Cappatt and Mrs. Theresa Maitte of Ellwood City, and Mrs. Anna Masters of Mahoningtown. He also leaves a brother, Joseph Cappatt, in Italy.

He was a member of the Holy Cross church, the Armando Diaz and St. Ann Society.

Requiem mass will take place Thursday morning in Holy Cross church at an hour which has not been arranged as yet, and interment will follow in St. Vitus cemetery.

Kirkwood Child's Funeral

Sad rites for little Norma Jean Kirkwood took place Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Kirkwood, 109 Holton street, with Rev. Frank Lehman, pastor of the Nazarene church, in charge.

Mrs. Beatrice Thomas and Mrs. Margaret Jacobs sang "Good Night and Good Morning", "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Jesus Loves Me" during the touching services in the home.

Pallbearers were Betty and Margaret Williams, Beulah Mae Criss, Gladys Booth, Elsie and Alma Linz. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Laws

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jordan Laws of Weaver street were conducted in St. Paul's Baptist church in the presence of many friends Saturday afternoon.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. C. D. Henderson. Rev. M. Cecil Mills and the choir of St. Paul's church assisted in the services.

Pallbearers were Curtis Bell, William Harris, Lindsay Moreland, Walter Hill, W. E. Davis and Harrison J. Hamilton. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Mary Lou Stroud Funeral

Services for little Mary Lou Stroud, victim of an automobile accident in Croton last week, were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the residence on Cascade street. Rev. C. H. Hauger, pastor of the Croton avenue M. E. church, was in charge.

Flower girls were Delores Prioletti, Lena Vitulla, Gertrude Forze, Angelina Yacoby and Nancy DeLorenzo. Pallbearers were Stella Valenti, Betty Glitch, Lewis Glitch, Bobbie Trott, Delores Colaluca and Vera Mancini. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Blood Is Supplied By Local Officer To Mrs. Glenn Dick

Mrs. Glenn M. Dick of 412 Haus avenue underwent a blood transfusion at the New Castle hospital this morning, James Steiner, desk sargeant at the local police station, supplying a pint of blood. Several persons had volunteered to give blood, but that of Steiner was found to fill the requirements. It is what is known to the medical fraternity as type 1-A blood and is said to be very rare. Only about seven per cent of people have this type of blood. Mrs. Dick recently underwent an operation for the removal of her appendix and also a tumor. She lost so much blood that a transfusion was deemed necessary. She has a fair chance of recovery.

Japan Undecided On 1940 Olympics

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—Premier Fumiaro Konoye, replying to a question whether Japan intends to abandon the 1940 Olympic games in view of the Chinese crisis, declared today the government will reach a definite decision shortly.

The decision will be reached, he stated, after consultation with various interested groups, including the Japanese Olympic organizing committee.

The newspaper Asahi Shimbun, meanwhile, reported Japan had decided to forego the Olympic and that a formal announcement will be made shortly after the organizing committee meets.

Would Invite Duke To Return

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A plea to invite the self-exiled Duke of Windsor to return to his homeland was published in the editorial columns of the London Daily Express today.

"The Duke of Windsor should be invited to come home," the editorial stated. "According to reports he likes to hear of England by radio and likes to read of England in English newspapers.

"It is a fair bet he would like to come back. There is accommodation for the Duke if he cares to settle here. There is an empty house at Fort Belveder. And of course there is no question of a ban against his coming."

FAITH

LAWS AND MORE LAWS

We hear so much about laws to shorten working hours and give more people employment. The next thing we hear is laws to allow married school teachers, even though their husbands are working, to teach school. Does this help unemployment?

Now, we have a 44-hour week for women. Business concerns open in the middle of the forenoon and close early in the evening. Does this give any more work to unemployed?

But some of them have their advantages, as dance halls and saloons will not close at five in the evening and it will give the employed of the stores, who wish to do so, more time to patronize these places, spend their money and enjoy themselves.

ROWE-CAMPBELL BESSEMER WEDDING

Robertine Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Rowe, of Bessemer, and Joseph G. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Campbell, of Oak street, were married Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Presbyterian parsonage at Bessemer. The Rev. William Engle, pastor, officiated.

Attendants were Miss Mable Smith and Rex Rowland, both of this city. The bride wore a becoming dress of green silk, with brown accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Her bridesmaid wore a black ensemble, with white accompaniments and white flowers.

An informal reception for the immediate families was held at the bride's home after which, the newlyweds departed for Cleveland, where they saw the air races. Later, they left on a boat trip, expecting to return to New Castle the latter part of this week.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are employees of the J. R. Rick company. She is a stenographer and he is manager of the stock room.

Conclude Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lortz and son Billy, of Euclid avenue, are home from a 16 days' trip through the west. They visited Wisconsin, Minnesota, Bad Lands, Black Hills, South Dakota, Wyoming, Rocky Mountains, National Park, Denver, Colorado Springs, Nebraska and Iowa.

S. O. S. Scholars

Mrs. E. C. Morrow, of Walnut street, will open her home Friday, September 10, to the S. O. S. Scholars. The feature of the occasion will be a tureen luncheon at 1 o'clock.

1936 Class Reunion.

Members of the 1936 graduating class of Union high school are planning a reunion for Friday evening, September 10, at a popular recreation spot. Marion Chambers is working with the committee to complete arrangements, and those interested may contact her.

KELLER-DUDEK CHURCH NUPTIALS

Before an altar bedecked with palms and flowers, Miss Clara Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barut, of 1506½ Hanna street, became the bride of Sigmund Dudek, 1607 Jefferson street, Monday morning, September 6, in the church of St. Philip and James. Rev. V. V. Stancelewski, pastor of the church, officiated.

For her wedding Mrs. Dudek chose her sister, Helen Kellar, as maid of honor and the following women as attendants, Misses Irene Lutowsky, Marie Barut and Helen Noga.

The bride was gowned in white satin with a finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of orchids. Her maids in attendance were gowned in aquamarine slipper satin and carried yellow tea roses.

Mr. Dudek had as his best man his brother, Walter, with the following friends attending him, Stanley Kwiatkowski, Joseph Boran and Marion Morowski. During the service special music was provided with Miss Marie Dutkiewicz at the organ.

Following the ceremony at the church, a wedding breakfast was held in the dining room of the Falcon club and in the afternoon and evening a reception was held honoring the bride and groom. Today they left for a wedding trip to Detroit, Mich., and other points.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dudek are well known young people, Mr. Dudek being an employe of the Johnson Bronze Company, and Mrs. Dudek of the Shenango Pottery Company.

Visitors From Denver

Mr. and Mrs. William Cottrell, of Denver, Col., are the house guests of Frank Nugent, Greenwood avenue. Mr. Cottrell is a former resident of New Castle and this is his first visit back here since the war.

Mr. Cottrell now holds a responsible position in Denver. He has a large number of relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell were the luncheon guests of Mrs. Carl Wallace, of Blaine street, on Monday.

MRS. E. SHERBINE HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Sherbine, who was 78 years old on Sunday, was honored Saturday evening with a surprise birthday card shower and party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Morgan.

The family group which gathered was entertained by Robert Allshouse and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, who sang several selections.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Frank Morgan and Mrs. Lloyd Sherbine, assisted by Edith Sherbine.

Mrs. Sherbine received many lovely birthday cards. She was also presented with a W. B. A. pioneer pin by Review 98 of the W. B. A.

Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Allshouse, Robert and Wilfred Allshouse, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sherbine, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan, Edith Sherbine, and Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shaffer and family.

HOSPITAL SEWING WEDNESDAY MORNING

Interest is being revived this week in the sewings conducted by the Aide society of Jameson Memorial hospital.

With Mrs. Robert M. White as the new chairman, various groups are being contacted which will be in charge the different weeks. It has been decided to sew every other week this fall and winter, instead of weekly as heretofore, unless an urgent need arises unexpectedly for supplies.

Women of the Guild of Epworth M. E. church, Mrs. J. M. Edwards president, have signified their willingness to take charge tomorrow, and it is hoped a large number will be present. Mrs. D. C. Lindley and Mrs. Ruth Urmson will cut material.

The Aide society again stresses the fact that all New Castle women will be welcomed at these sewings, whether members of the particular group in charge or not. Anyone needing transportation, but willing to go, may call Mrs. J. D. Crawford and she will see that the need will be filled.

After this week, the next gathering will take place on September 22.

FAMILY DINNER AT PULASKI HOME

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Calderwood entertained 30 guests Sunday at a family dinner in their Pulaski home.

At tables artistically arranged with fall flowers, the group was seated for a bountiful menu. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Wescott, of Charleston, W. Va., and grandchildren Mary Anne Slegg, Jimmy and Archie Calhoun, of Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Wescott and Mrs. Calderwood are sisters.

Other guests were from Cleveland, Warren, Youngstown, New Castle, New Bedford and Pulaski.

Tindall Reunion

Seventy members and friends of the Tindall family gathered in annual reunion last Saturday at Cascade Park and it proved to be one of the most enjoyable they had ever had, in spite of the downpour of rain.

Dinner and supper were served in the grove at sheltered tables brightly decorated with garden flowers. Younger members of the family enjoyed swimming during the afternoon.

Election of officers resulted as follows: president, Mifflan Tindall; vice president, William Tindall; secretary, Mrs. Sam Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. John Covert, and historian, Sarah Tindall.

On the first Saturday of September, 1938, the reunion will again take place in Cascade Park.

R. U. Club

R. U. club members will enjoy a corn and wiener roast, Wednesday evening, at Venditto's camp. Members will meet in their clubrooms, 809 South Jefferson street, tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

HILDA UNGAR WEDS CLIFFORD B. BUTTS

Hilda Ungar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Ungar, of Sampson street, and Clifford B. Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butts, of R. F. D. 2, were quietly married Saturday at 4 in the afternoon in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Rev. A. M. Stump was the officiant.

The bride chose beige crepe for her wedding dress with black accessories. She wore a shoulder bouquet of salmon tinted gardenias.

Eleanor Wester, the bride's only attendant wore a green crepe dress with black accessories and carried a wrist corsage of yellow Talisman roses. Max Henry of Sligo, Pa., served as best man for the groom.

A wedding dinner followed at The Castleton Hotel after which the couple left for a short motor trip. After September 15, Mr. and Mrs. Butts will be at home in their newly furnished apartment on County Line street.

JOHN NELSON REUNION HELD NEAR MERCER

Annual reunion of the John Nelson family was held Saturday, September 4, at Millburn Grange hall, near Mercer, Pa.

At high noon, guests numbering 55, gathered about long tables beautifully decorated with garden flowers and a sumptuous dinner was served.

Following dinner there was a program of sports for young and old, with prizes to the winners. At a business session the following officers and committees were named for the coming year: President, Scott Collins; vice president, Wilbur Parshall; secretary-treasurer, Elder McCormick.

Table committee consists of Mrs. Elder McCormick, Mrs. Wayne Parshall and Miss Viola Bracken. Herbert Hunter will head the sports committee.

One family with representatives of four generations was present, it being that of Mrs. Elizabeth Parshall who was the oldest person present. She is 84. With her were her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Hunter; granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Fellows; greatgrandsons Robin and Daniel Fellows. The youngest person present was Donald Charles Bracken, aged five months.

In the family group were guests from New Castle, Ellwood, Greenville, Mill Village, State College, New Wilmington, Volant, Youngstown and Cleveland.

It was decided to hold the gathering next year at the same place on the first Saturday in September.

MRS. ROBERTS TO SPEAK TO ALUMNAE

When the Lawrence county division of the Indiana Alumnae association meets in the home of Mildred Gresham, 913 Almira avenue, for its regular meeting on Thursday evening, Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts will speak on her recent trip to Europe.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and business regarding future activities will be discussed.

HOSPITAL ALUMNAE MEETS THIS EVENING

SHOWER AFFAIR FOR RUTH McCORD

A lovely collection of gifts was received by Ruth McCord, a September bride-elect, when a delightful party was given at her home in Mt. Jackson, the other evening by Miss Elberta Wallace.

The guests numbering 22 had an informal time after the shower feature, and a dainty lunch through which pink and white tones predominated, was served. Many of the group were from Sharon, Farrell and New Castle.

WEEK END EVENTS AT THE FIELD CLUB

Over Labor Day members of the Field club enjoyed a full program of social activities. Good crowds were present at the Saturday night dance and again on Sunday and Monday, many special events having been planned for yesterday.

Monday morning the men enjoyed golf and in the afternoon there were mixed foursomes. The day was ideal for the outdoor sport, cool and clear. Noon luncheon was served and a special dinner at 6:30.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Street presided as gracious hosts over a bridge party. Play at many tables was continuous from 8:30 until a late hour when refreshments were served.

Prize winners were J. H. Gibson, William B. Howe, Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger and Mrs. E. A. Long.

This week's social events will include the regular bridge party on Thursday evening, the hosts for which will be determined.

ANDERSON-JACKMAN WEDDING IN HOME

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. Lee McCracken, at Slippery Rock, when her daughter, Mary Louise Anderson became the bride of Charles Alben Jackman, of Ohio street, Sharon.

Dr. S. A. Kirkbride, of New Wilmington, who united the bride's parents in marriage 25 years ago officiated with the single ring service. The bride wore a gown of blue sheer with gold satin coat, waist length, and gold accessories. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses and blue delphinium in a shoulderette.

Attending her sister as maid of honor, Rebecca Anderson, of New Castle, was lovely in a gown of blue sheer also, with white accessories and a shoulder bouquet of Talisman roses and blue delphinium. Paul Beard, a close friend of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Belle Frazier, of Sharon, maternal grandmother of the groom and Mrs. Rebecca Anderson, of West Middlesex, paternal grandmother of the bride, were among the guests.

Following the ceremony, a brief period of congratulations was held and a wedding supper was served to 17 relatives and friends. Later, the young couple left on a short trip, destination unrevealed. After October 1, Mr. Jackman and his bride will be at home in New Wilmington.

The bride is a graduate of the class of 1931, New Wilmington High school and of New Castle Business College, 1932. For the past year she has been bookkeeper at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The groom is a graduate of Sharon High school and is with the Air Reduction company, at Sharon.

L. L. O. L. No. 129.

L. L. O. L. No. 129 will have an afternoon quilting Friday at the Malta hall. They will work on the quilt to be sent to the Orange Home at Hatboro, Pa.

A tureen dinner will be served at 6 o'clock, after which there will be the regular business meeting. Quilting will be resumed after the business meeting.

THE VETERANS HATE WAR

"VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS hate war." This striking sentence in the ex-service men's telegram to President Roosevelt from their national convention in Buffalo doubtless epitomizes the feeling of the overwhelming majority of those American citizens who have ever taken up arms in their country's defense. There is no doubt that it expresses the attitude of the American people declares the Philadelphia Inquirer.

This organization is apprehensive of complications that might arise from the continued presence of our soldiers and sailors in China after the last Americans who are willing to leave are removed from the danger zone. Its fear is shared by many others.

These veterans who all saw service overseas have a first hand familiarity with the horrors of warfare so greatly intensified by, modern methods of destruction. War has not made them warlike, but lovers of peace. To defend their country they would willingly take up arms again, but not to fight other nations' battles. Both they and the country have learned a lesson.

There are countries where it is impossible to visualize organizations of ex-soldiers openly declaring their opposition to war. The taking of such a stand would be regarded as tantamount to treason and would bring swift punishment in its train. For those unfortunate countries are saturated with the spirit of militarism.

But militarism is far from the thoughts of the American government and people. The preservation of peace is their first consideration It is natural that views reparding the best method of insuring our nation's peace in the light of the Far East crisis should vary widely.

There are those who believe that the cause would be best served by invoking the Neutrality Act at once. Sound reasons have been advanced against action that would be premature and might prove provocative of those evils we are trying so solicitously to avoid.

But the curren discussion of means and methods serves to emphasize the unity of the nation's earnest desire and purpose, which is to keep out of a war in which America has no rightful lot or part.

Here is the essence of our new neutrality which, for the moment at least, needs no formal proclamation to make clear that America is resolved to pursue the path of peace for herself, whatever others may do.

TOO MANY VOTERS FAILED TO REGISTER

With tabulation completed in all but three of the sixty-seven counties, the registration of voters in Pennsylvania shows a considerable drop from that of last year. As compared to the 4,730,594 Republicans and Democrats enrolled in 1936, this year's combined figure is only 3,276,665.

Because of the new permanent registration law, ending the former practice of periodic enrollment and keeping the voter's name on the books unless he wished to change his party affiliation, high hopes had been held in some quarters for a registration total at least as large as that of last year. To offset the disappointment felt by some in this connection, it has been suggested that the new laws have served to prevent padding with "phantom" voters thus somewhat reducing the totals.

The best explanation of the lighter enrollment, however, appears to be that this year's elections do not hold the same interest for the voters as last year's presidential contest and many thousands simply did not take the trouble to qualify. Next year, with gubernatorial and senate offices at stake, registration should climb much higher.

THE EXPERTS

The time is coming when, as a matter of self-preservation, the person who characterizes another as an expert will have to smile. Expert is assuming the status of a fighting word, provocative of immediate hostilities because of its belittling implications.

The trend in this direction was started during the depression, when the economic experts, after pondering the matter profoundly, reached a thousand different conclusions as to the causes and probable duration of our financial distress. All of them, of course, were wrong and in consequence the economists have come to be regarded in an ironically humorous light, although still inclined to take themselves seriously.

And now it is the boxing experts who have been compelled, by one of those unpredictable quirks of the fates, to hide their heads in shame and to strive vainly to explain how it comes about that with all of their knowledge and experience they are mostly wrong when issues of importance develop in their own line. This should be a lesson to all of us. The thing to do, it seems, is to study carefully the opinions of the economic, political and sporting experts, determine their conclusions, and then steer in the opposite direction.

AN UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY

A favorite legend, one written into a popular novel, is that somewhere in the world there persists the remnant of prehistoric ages, a land untouched by time and unvisited by modern man. It is surprising to learn that an unexplored plateau exists in the United States, never invaded or surveyed, though within sight of a perpetual parade of curious tourists.

In Grand Canyon National Park, Arizona, stands the inaccessible plateau known as Shiva Temple. Its outer sides are sheer cliffs of sandstone. The plateau is heavily wooded, but it is unknown what kind of animal life may exist on it. An expedition sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History of New York City, has been granted permission to scale the cliffs and find out. There is some possibility that strange creatures may exist there, whose remote ancestors were cut off from the rest of the animal kingdom by erosion of ages ago.

There is a haunting possibility, however, that the scientific explorers may struggle up the cliffs, cutting a trail as they go, to be met at the top by a billboard advertisement for soap or cigarettes. They may find in the forests of Shiva Temple the self-evident remains of a picnic party, including pop bottles and peanut shells. The little "lost continent" of the Grand Canyon may not be so lost as it seems. There should be some place in the world where the foot of man has never trod, but it is hard to believe it lies in Arizona.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GO TO SCHOOL HAPPILY

Most children who enter school for the first time this month do so with enthusiasm and delight. For months they have looked forward to this great adventure.

But for a few overprotected children, children strangled with their mother's apron strings, children who have not been out of sight of some older member of the family, children who have not played freely with many other children of their own age, nor fought their own playground battles or settled their own quarrels, going to school will be fraught with fear and anxiety.

The mother of such a child will suffer emotionally about as much as the child, if not more. She will be overwhelmed with dread that this little child might not be happy at school away from her, half hoping that he really won't.

This mother, following her old habits, will try to comfort the child at the slightest show of fear in him about school; and her very tone and gestures will induce still more fear in him. She will go with him to school. Perhaps she will stay there all day, if allowed. And she will go with him the next day and the next. While she is there the child will not join normally in the activities of the group, but stick close to mother, lest she might slip away when he is not watching. Obviously the teacher is hampered and she is exceedingly annoyed at this mother.

Face Problem Bravely

Mother, if you are sure you should go to school on the first morning with your child, do so. Meet the teacher formally and turn back home about as quickly as possible. If the child cries after you, let him cry. Move all the faster then, for the sooner you are out of sight the sooner he will cease his crying.

Between now and the first day of school you can do much to wean this child, emotionally, from you and yourself from him. Be away from him more than usual, or have him away from you with other children about his age. Help him befriend a few of those who will be his classmates. Continue to help this child acquire added emotional independence.

A MAN'S WORDS

I sat in a green plaza in San Francisco and looked up at a monument to Robert Louis Stevenson. . . . Chinese mothers sat near me, tending their plump babies. Chinese youngsters petitioned me to allow them to shine my shoes. On the grass all around me lay sleeping idlers, shabby men whose lives were aimless, night workers resting in the sunshine, sailors from the great ships that lay along the water front—and across the street from where I sat and mused, the great pile of the city's prison rose. . . . It was easy in that place to think unhappy thoughts about the race of man.

Easy? Yes. . . . But I rose and walked a few steps to Stevenson's monument, stood before the tall shaft, looked up at the little bronze ship sailing so gallantly forever.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A CHILD'S COURAGE

The problem of what to do with Mary and Johnny during vacation does have its harrowing moments, but it's simple compared to the desperate plight of the poverty-stricken kids of New York's East Side, who want to play and have nowhere to go except to the scorching pavingstones.

A few days ago ten-year old Lorraine Chinchar and her chum, nine-year old Marilyn Murphy, children of the tenements, found a grand place to escape the heat and traffic of the streets—the tenement roof. Then they decided to play on the roof of the tenement next theirs. There was only ten inches separating the buildings and besides, there was a netting between them.

But the netting was rusty wire and paper. The little girls plunged five stories down the shaft. A young interne, lowered into the shaft, picked up the lifeless body of Lorraine. The crumbled, still-conscious form that was Marilyn was wedged too tightly to move.

"You're a brave little girl," said the intern to Marilyn, giving her a sedative.

"I'm not going to cry," she whispered. "I want my mother."

Later a squad of policemen battered an opening through a brick wall to rescue the stout-hearted waif.

When the bluecoats picked her up, enough strength lived in the broken body of Marilyn for her to murmur a soft "Thank you" to her rescuers before life flickered from her pale, smiling lips forever.

Do not let a soul forget it
From the dawn till close of day.

Would your soul forget its trouble,
Make it vanish like a bubble?
Then you put that little trouble
In a closet out of sight.
Did it stay there all unheeded,
Say its presence is not needed,
Then you start to work at something
That requires mind and might.

Set yourself to work for others,
For your struggling, burdened brothers,
You will find so many burdens
Heavier than the one you bear
That your trifling little trouble
Soon will vanish like a bubble,
And your very self, my brother,
Will forget 'twas ever there.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I have often read that the fireplace in a room should be made the point of interest by grouping furniture around it. My problem is that I have no fireplace nor mantel. How may I form a center of interest in my room, which is square? J. D.

Answer—Your davenport will then have to be your center of interest. After you have placed it against one of your walls, hang over it a piece of tapestry or a large and interesting portrait to give height to this space. At one end of the davenport place a chair with a floor lamp alongside of it; at the other end a table with a lamp thereon.

This arrangement will be comfortable for conversational groups.

Place at the opposite wall a large piece of furniture, such as a secretary desk or a piano (depending upon just what you already have).

This will balance your davenport group, as well as give the necessary height.

Convention Studied Court Plan.
Was Touchy Problem In Beginning.
Constitution Was Unpopular Once.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

THE CONSTITUTIONAL convention, which formulated the American constitution in Philadelphia 150 years ago, had a touchy time when trying to decide how powerful to make the courts. Perhaps that is why there is a certain vagueness in the constitution concerning the supreme court.

The formulation of the courts by the convention described in this manner by Professor Charles A. Beard and Mary R. Beard in "The Rise of American Civilization" (a volume well worth the attention of any American):

"With the idea of creating a central control analogous to that formerly exercised by British courts, a judicial as well as an executive department was added to the government by the constitution. Under the articles of the confederation, the state courts had been practically independent of all supervision from above and the congress had been almost wholly dependent on those frail needs for any enforcement of laws or treaties. . . .

". . . The question was vexatious and had to be handled adroitly by the convention. It was, as Gouverneur Morris said, only by the exercise of extreme caution that the committee in charge of the matter was able to draw up an acceptable clause and reach an agreement on the creation of a supreme court and 'such other courts' as congress might authorize, high tribunals endowed with jurisdiction over all cases in law and equity arising under the constitution, federal laws and treaties.

"In these circumstances, much was left to the future. . . . It was not expressly stated, for instance, that the federal courts should enjoy the power of declaring acts of congress null and void on constitutional grounds, but the idea that the federal judiciary would use this high prerogative was fully appreciated by adepts in jurisprudence at the time.

"Measures passed by colonial legislatures had been repeatedly nullified by British courts and a few precedents had been set by American judges during the critical period.

"Of course, in popular circles, the theory and the practice were fiercely defended in the Philadelphia convention and ouside it by lawyers. . .

* * *

NOT POPULAR AT FIRST

The American constitution as formulated by the Philadelphia convention was not popular with a large part of the public. It did not seem democratic enough. It appeared to give too much centralized power.

The delegates wondered what to do to get their document ratified. They decided, therefore, that instead of sending it to the state legislatures, they would require special state conventions to ratify it, conventions made up of "better" citizens, men with property. And they authorized that the constitution should go into effect if merely two-thirds of the 13 states ratified it. Unanimous ratification seemed impossible.

* * *

DIFFICULTY IN RATIFYING

The constitutional convention completed its labors on Sept. 17, 1787. But merely 39 out of 55 members were left to sign the document. Some members already had gone home to denounce the instrument.

Even Alexander Hamilton was in doubt. He was on the side opposing the views of the majority. Instead of believing the government would be too strong, he thought it would not be strong enough.

There was bitterness on both sides. All through the winter of 1787-1788 the battle raged.

Delaware ratified first, on Dec. 7, 1787, Pennsylvania followed on Dec. 12, New Jersey on Dec. 18.

By June 1, 1788, the list of states had risen to eight. One more state was needed for ratification.

New York and Virginia, the two most powerful states, were the chief holdouts. Massachusetts already had ratified, reluctantly.

New Yorrk finally ratified, on July 26, 1788—by a majority of two votes out of 57—after news arrived that New Hampshire had ratified on June 21, and that the constitution therefore had gained the necessary two-thirds without New York. Virginia had raitified even prior to New York—on June 26.

North Carolina and Rhode Island refused to ratify.

Thus, the American constitution came into being—amid sharp debate and vigorous differences of opinion. It has been greatly liberalized by amendments, which, incidentally are difficult to obtain, for a minority of 13 states out of the 48 can prevent ratification. But the document has withstood the test of time as few documents have.

KNOWING THE ANSWER

He threw it aside
With a toss of his head,
'Twas a puzzle we'd tried.
"I know it," he said.
We had argued it o'er
The whole evening through,
But he'd seen it before
And the answer he knew.

To us it was fun
As we struggled to find
The way it was done.
'Twas a spur to the mind,
But to him evermore,
'Twas a test he could do.
He had seen it before
And the answer he knew.

So I'm sure it would be
If the future were known
And what now we can't see
To all mortals were shown.
If all things were proved
And all secrets we knew
And all hazards removed
We'd have naught to pursue.

.. TUESDAY' SEPT. 7

Once Upon August 7—None of the historians of that most powerful social force we have today, the movies, has ever given Jim Corbett his share of the credit for making it a revolutionary invention.

Many a potentially valuable invention has died aborning because its discoverer has not been able to make the public take notice and accept it. For example, on Sept. 7, 1784, George Washington certified that he had inspected James Rumsey's steamboat model and gave it his opinion 'that the discovery is of vast importance." Even with this starter, Rumsey, like Fitch and other pioneers, did't find a way to get the public interested in the steamboat. When a quarter century had passed, Fulton did.

To get back to Corbett: 43 years ago today, Jim, who had won the world's heavyweight championship from John L. Sullivan exactly two years before, knocked out Peter Courtney in the sixth round of a bout arranged for only one sightseer—a movie camera.

Thomas A. Edison, to provide something that would make people sit up and take notice of his new motion picture camera, hired Corbett, staged the private fight in a small, stuffy, blacklined room in Orange, N. J., and got a sports film that was epochal.

On Other Sept. 7ths: 1860—The lumber schooner Augusta collided in the night with the passenger steamer Lady Elgin, off Winnetka, in Lake Michigan. Receiving no answer to repeated calls of "Do you need help," the skipper of the Augusta sailed away to Chicago, left the Lady Elgin sinking with 393 aboard. Of them 295 drowned. Seventeen of 98 were rescued by Edward W. Spencer, who swam between shore and ship again and again, before collapsing with the words, "Did I do my best?"

1863—Pietro Mascagni, composer of Cavalleria Rusticana, was born. After critics lambasted one of his productions, he formally dedicated the next one, "To myself, with distinguished esteem and unalterable satisfaction."

1867—John Pierpont Morgan was born at Irvington, N. Y., only son of J. P. Morgan's second wife. His father believed in astrology and planned that this child should be born when the stars were favorable.

1893 — Toronto's citizens voted against operation of street cars on Sunday.

Mechanic Gives Air Race Thrills

Screaming Dive At Finish Gives First Place To Illinois Flyer

MILLIONAIRE ALSO GETS FLYING HONORS

By LEON W. SHLOSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 7—An Illinois garage mechanic and a west coast millionaire today shared the top rung in competitive aviation.

Frank Fuller, Jr., of San Francisco, a paint company executive, record-breaking winner of the Bendix cross-country trophy, was one of these.

The other was the Lemont, Ill., super flyer, Rudy Kling who piloted his little Kling special to victory in the country's two greatest closed course air speed events, the Thompson and Greve trophy races.

Kling yesterday provided a crowd of 110,000 wild-eyed air enthusiasts with the most thrilling finish ever seen in an air event.

Rounding the home pylon of the Thompson trophy race high and several lengths behind the larger and more powerful ship of Earl Ortman he came in with a screaming dive to get the checkered flag in a scant ten feet in front.

His average speed was 256 miles per hour. Steve Wittman, of Oshkosh, Wis., finished fifth after he had set the pace at better than 260 miles per hour for 18 of the 20 laps. His Curtiss E-12 engine started throwing oil and forced him to fly high and slowly to finish.

Candidate For Register-Recorder

D. E. Cioffi Seeks Nomination In Democratic Party At Primaries

D. E. CIOFFI

To the Democratic voters of Lawrence county:

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Register and Recorder of Lawrence county.

This office is one wholly governed by statute and does not require the interpretation of policy. It is an office for which any competent, honest citizen with good business ability may qualify.

I am 38 years of age, a resident of Lawrence county practically all my life. I am now living at 1117½ S. Mercer St., New Castle, Pa. I was educated in New Castle high school, later taking a two year business course at the New Castle Business college. I qualified further with two years study of law in Lasalle Extension University, of Chicago, Ill. I then held several executive positions and sold life insurance for four years.

For the past two years I have been employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as an adjuster for the Workmen's Compensation Bureau.

With this large experience I believe I am well qualified to hold the public office for which I am a candidate. I believe in honest, conscientious and efficient service in all public offices. I believe in equality to all people regardless of race, color or creed. I appeal to the Democratic voters of Lawrence county, to support a candidate that will be fair to all who require the services of the Register and Recorder and to one who promises only a competent, straight forward economic administration.

My name is the last on the Democratic ballot for the primaries on Sept. 14th.

All Of Us

And lowered my eyes a little and read the words of Stevenson—so brave, so kind and so wise—graven there on granite:

"To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and spend a little less, to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence, to renounce when that shall be necessary, and not be embittered, to keep a few friends, but these without capitulation—above all, on the same grim conditions, to keep friends with himself, here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy."

I looked around and saw many a poor or defeated or desperate or shiftless or homeless man. And some of them had earned little and spent all, and some were without families, and some had renounced and were bitter, and some had no friends and were not friendly even to themselves, and some were bereft of fortitude and gave no outward signs of delicacy. . . . And yet I knew that if Robert Louis Stevenson were to look upon them he would see deeply within them and he would know that even the most hopeless among them, if he were to stand where I stood and read those heartening words, would straighten his shoulders and go out from that green plaza strengthened a little and renewed for living. . . . As I did. As I went forth.

JAPS 'BIG PUSH' HELD IN CHECK AT SHANGHAI

"big push" still was checked by determined Chinese troops, desultory firing which continued through the night was followed at dawn by a heavy artillery duel.

Later Japanese planes came out in force and bombed Chinese entrenchments in the Kiangwan and Yantzepoo districts, while Japanese scouting planes unsuccessfully tried to locate the Chinese batteries concealed in the wreckage-strewn Pootung area.

Japanese authorities claimed their advance in the Yangtzepoo region, scene of heavy fighting in the past 24 hours, was continuing according to schedule. They admitted, however, their forces still were meeting desperately stiff resistance from the embattled Chinese.

Order Americans To Leave

With the warfare daily growing more serious and threatening to engulf the entire nation in the flames of conflict, 800 Dependents—wives and children—of American sailors and marines in China were ordered to leave the country.

The order was issued by Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet. He instructed that wives, children and other dependents of officers and men serving in China withdraw as fast as transportation becomes available.

The U. S. S. Sacramento will depart for Hong Kong Monday with destitute Americans.

The American embassy here has authorized United States consulates at Amoy, Foochow and other South China points to close. Americans were urged to evacuate all these cities as the conflict spread in their direction.

Oppose Move

At the same time, the American chamber of commerce at Shanghai took a firm stand against any move in Washington which might be construed as abandonment of American interests in the face of Japanese military operations.

The chamber sent a cable to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, stating:

"The chamber of commerce in Shanghai strongly deprecates any official statement which could be interpreted here as indicating withdrawal from or abandonment of United States interests in China.

"American prestige would be seriously injured by this action."

Shanghai trembled under the bombardment, by land, sea and air, of the Yangzepoo and Woosung regions as Japanese commanders spurred their troops forward in a drive to crack the Chinese battle lines.

The Japanese flagship Idzumo, which had been driven down the river by Chinese artillery, returned to her moorings half a mile from the Japanese consulate, her heavy guns ready for action.

Claims that they had captured the strategically important Jukong wharf were made by Japanese officials as the fighting progressed.

It was believed the Japanese barrage was part of a "feeling out" process whereby the Japanese were testing the strength of the defending forces before definitely announcing their "push" is under way.

Members of the Lawrence Mission Sunday school will be entertained at the Cunningham avenue home of George Ashton Friday evening, September 10. Members are to meet at the mission at 7.

The program includes a talk by Lottie B. Williams, a duet by Vivian and Janclyn Qwarles, a talk by E. W. Lloyd, recitation by Grace Derry, an instrumental duet by Mrs. Carrie Robinson and Pence, a talk by Mr. Ashton and an instrumental duet by Charles and Richard Ashton.

How to become a great something? Well? Cars are made wonderful by constant research to find faults and improve details.

School had funny ideas in the old days. Everybody was required to learn how to spell.

Seek Youth Who Fled From Jail

Chester Tomski, 18, of Ellwood City road, arrested Sunday night by Officers Millers, McMullen and Shepp for the alleged theft of automobiles, managed to unlock a cell door at the city jail and fled an hour or two following his arrest, according to police. He is being sought.

National problems can't be ended. You see, if anybody had power enough to solve them, he would be one himself.

"POLITICALLY UNKNOWN"

LESTER W. McCLELLAND

In the opinion of some of the politicians, Lester W. McClelland has one fault: he is "politically unknown". They agree he is qualified to sit in city council, that he is known in every part of the city, but he is "politically unknown", whatever that means. If it means that he must follow the dictates of politicians, if it means that he would be expected to be a governmental "Charley McCarthy", then his friends are willing that he remain "politically unknown". They know that when there has been work to do, when the government needed real men, when his city needs, service, he has been and is well and favorably known. If he is elected he will stand on his own feet. He is a candidate for one of the two Republican nominations for city council.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Japanese Can Prove Lovable

Are Very Likeable People When War Does Not Disturb Their Serenity

JAPANESE ARE BRAVE PEOPLE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Like most folk in this part of the world, I think, I sympathize with China against the Japanese.

Nevertheless, let no one imagine that the Japanese cannot be an exceedingly lovable people if they choose to make themselves so, as, sometimes, they do. To be sure, they are militant at times, but that is all right within reason.

For example:

A regrettably sizable proportion of white men in the Orient incline to assume a bullying attitude toward the native population. Illustratively, suppose one of these roughneck Occidentals chances to disagree with a rickshaw coolie over a question of fare—a rickshaw being a little man-drawn cab; the coolie is the human being who runs between the shafts. The white man, in the foreign part of Shanghai or in Hongkong, where, in normal times, occidentalism is supreme, as likely as not, even though he may be wrong, hauls off and kicks the coolie. And the coolie can't do anything about it. If he resents the kick, the foreign police lock him up.

In Japan it is the kicking foreigner who is locked up and heavily penalized. Indeed, he is lucky if the coolie doesn't give him a lesson in jiu jitsu beforehand.

• • •

JAPANESE ARE BRAVE

So far as all that goes, I say, "Banzai for Japan!"

It is just proper self-respect.

Oh, the Japanese are nervy.

I was in China in the early days of the revolution there. Now and then I had occasion to take a photographer along with me, to shoot scenes of carnage.

It was well recognized among western newspapermen that, on such missions, the photographer should be a Japanese, not a Chinese. For, when the fireworks began, the Chinese cameraman invariably would run away, but the Japanese would stand his ground.

I don't believe it was so much because the Chinaman was cowardly, but, in a situation of danger, he had sense enough to hunt his hole. The Japanese apparently did not.

Anyway, it gave me a lively respect for the Japanese, which I have felt ever since.

• • •

STEWART'S EXPERIENCE

I went to the Far East as the representative of an American news agency which was affiliated with a similar Japanese agency known as the Nippon Dempo Tsusin Sha.

Nippon is Japan's name for Japan. The full name is Dai Nippon, signifying Great Japan, as one would say, Great Britain. Tsusin means telegraph news. Sha means company. To draw a comparison, there is a Japanese steamship line called the Toyo Kisen Kai Sha. Toyo means Oriental. Kisen means mail. Kai means steamship. Sha means company. Oriental Mail Steamship company! Get it?

Well, my credentials were pretty good—allied with a Japanese outfit.

• • •

DELIGHTFUL HOSTS

And I was received with open arms? I'll say I was.

It was oppressive, in fact. I had an interview with the foreign minister—Count Uchida in those days. Foreign Undersecretary Saka (since with the Mitsui bank) threw a banquet in my honor—with geisha girls and all that. I had not a minute left to myself. Importation of unauthorized arms was strictly prohibited. I had a .45 Colt. It was passed enthusiastically.

The Japanese notoriously are camera shy. I had a camera. I shot pictures of everything in sight—all through the Inland sea and everywhere.

It was taken for granted that I was a friend—and I was.

When a foreigner falls foul of the Japanese they can make things very unpleasant for him. I've known cases of it.

But they can be perfectly heavenly, too.

Don't think too 100 per cent harshly of them.

When they feel like it they are delightful neighbors. True, they want the best of it. Who doesn't?

ST. LOUIS—The ambition of every pinochle player—to hold a perfect hand of 1,500 trumps—has been achieved by Mrs. Emma Matt of St. Louis. She was recently dealt a 1,500 diamond trump hand in a four-handed game. Mrs. Matt bid 1,700 on the hand and made it.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?

YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unsympathetic, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it.

When your back aches and your nerves scream, don't take it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING
Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.
Doctors recommend an oily ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains soothing ingredients that aid healing. At druggists.

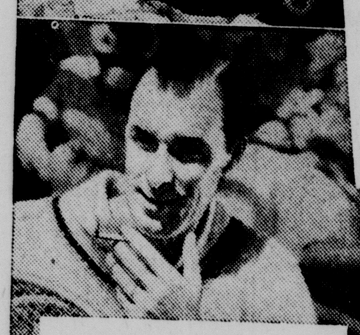
"CAN PEOPLE APPRECIATE THE CHOICER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?"

A QUESTION FREQUENTLY HEARD... ANSWER:

THEY SMOKE MORE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE IN THE WORLD

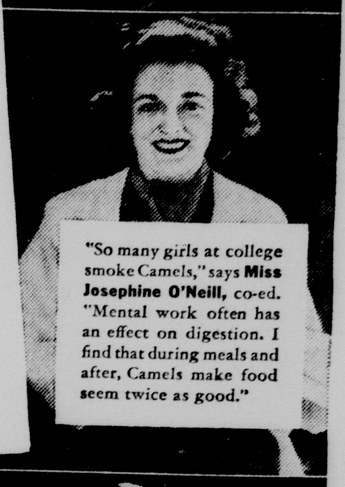
"Camels went 'round the world with me. I'll bet on them any time," famous round-the-world reporter, Miss Dorothy Kilgallen, says. "With Camels, steady smoking's a steady pleasure."

"Camels go big out our way," says Charlie Belden, boss of the Pitchfork Ranch, Wyoming. He is shown delivering a load of pronghorn antelopes to a zoo, via plane. "Cowboys are great Camel smokers. They like that 'lift' they get out of Camels."



"I have a long record as a Camel smoker—I've smoked them for many years," Bill Tilden states. "Here's one big point I'd like to make about Camels—they're the cigarette that I've found doesn't upset my nerves."

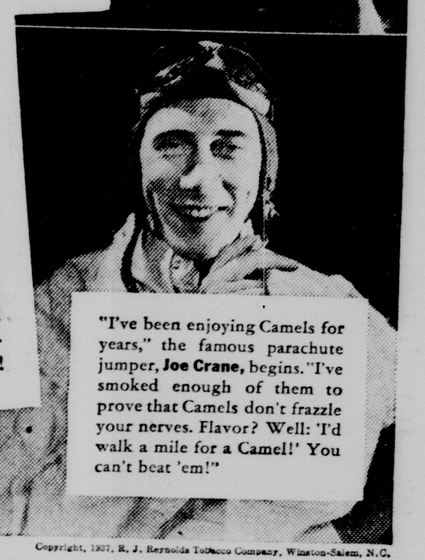
"To me, Camels mean 'Cheer' with a capital 'C,'" the famous motorboat sportsman, George Reis, says. "I also like Camel's hearty flavor. And I like the 'lift' I get with a Camel after I've been through a tough race."



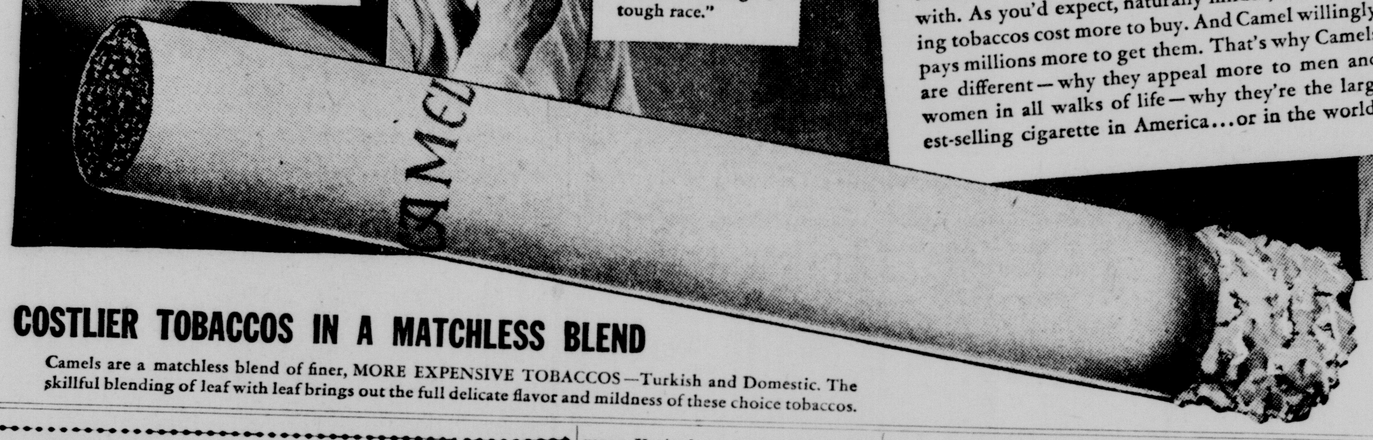
"So many girls at college smoke Camels," says Miss Josephine O'Neill, co-ed. "Mental work often has an effect on digestion. I find that during meals and after, Camels make food seem twice as good."

Men and women respond to the unadorned fact that costlier tobaccos play the most important part in making Camel Cigarettes milder and better

THE deeper you dig into the facts—the more you find that nothing man can do to inferior tobaccos can take the place of good tobaccos to start with. As you'd expect, naturally milder, better-tasting tobaccos cost more to buy. And Camel willingly pays millions more to get them. That's why Camels are different—why they appeal more to men and women in all walks of life—why they're the largest-selling cigarette in America...or in the world!



"I've been enjoying Camels for years," the famous parachute jumper, Joe Crane, begins. "I've smoked enough of them to prove that Camels don't frazzle your nerves. Flavor? Well: 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' You can't beat 'em!"



COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN A MATCHLESS BLEND

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. The skillful blending of leaf with leaf brings out the full delicate flavor and mildness of these choice tobaccos.

On Court House Hill

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Harry A. J. Brown to Leland P. Barker, Union township, $1.

James T. Campbell and wife to James T. Campbell, third ward, $1.

Frank Mandich to W. Howard Gilmore, North Beaver township, $1.

Lawrence county commissioners to W. H. Butler, Slippery Rock township, $232.23.

The next session of divorce court promises to be a big one. Seven applications for divorce have been filled at the prothonotary's office within the past two days.

Complaint is made that some court house officials and employees park their cars around the court house on Court street, so that when people come to transact business they have to go a long distance to find a place to park.

Under a new law enacted by the last legislature prisoners in the county jail who are sentenced, are to be given credit for the time they have already served if they are sent back to jail, or if to the workhouse or penitentiary, they are entitled to the same deduction. This custom has frequently been followed by local judges in sentencing prisoners in the past, so that there is nothing new in it except that it will apply to all prisoners.

With regard to the blinds on the court room windows, there are two schools of thought as to whether they should be kept up or down. The orthodox school maintains that they should be down in order to keep the sunlight from fading the carpets, while the modern school contends that if they are kept down, moths will get into the carpets. An appeal to the county commissioners by Court Crier Clifford Vance and Janitor Clifford James has been made and they have proposed splitting the difference by keeping the blinds part way up.

Albert Sam and Helen Jacobs, the latter formerly Helen Sam, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Robert M. King, in which they ask 500 for the death of their son Kenneth Sam, aged 8 years who was fatally injured when struck by King's car, while crossing Long avenue, near the intersection of Belmont avenue. It is the contention of the plaintiffs that the car was being operated at a high and reckless speed.

An appeal from the decision of Alderman O. H. P. Green has been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of John W. Louer against Louis Sandler. The case was an action in trespass, growing out of an automobile accident. The alderman rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $87.50.

A summons in trespass has been filed at the prothonotary's office by D'Metro Warsen, alias Metro Leshiski against Alfredo and Mary Graziano, and Constable Jack Steinbrink. It is claimed that defendant leased a property to plaintiffs at 1035 Butler avenue, and that defendants had plaintiff's goods distrained for rent. Warsen claims that his rent was fully paid at the time of the levy and that it was done maliciously. He asks $150 for being deprived of the use of his furniture, $150 compensatory damages and $5000 punative damages.

The court has approved a compromise agreement made by John Lynch of Union township, with the county commissioners. Lynch's property was sold for taxes in 1929, and has since been carried as the property of the county. The taxes which accrued amounted to over 400, but the house has run down and in need of repairs. Under the agreement Lynch will get his property back by paying $200.

Mrs. Margaret Dunn, administratrix in the estate of the late William G. Dunn, has been authorized to make distribution of $18,434.07 which has been paid to the estate by the City of New Castle on certain certificates of indebtedness. Under the distribution Mrs. Dunn will get one-half the amount and the balance will be divided among twelve other heirs as their interest may appear.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard is posting notices of election board vacancies in various districts where they have occurred by reasons of resignations. This is required under an act of assembly passed by the last legislature. This is so that all persons may have knowledge that a vacancy exists. There are an even dozen of such cases in the county. The court will appoint successors to fill the vacancies on September 10.

GARDNER FAMILY HOLIDAY REUNION

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Gardner, at East Brook, on Labor Day, a family reunion of their children, grandchildren and near relatives was held. In the neighborhood of 40 attended.

The affair was an all day one, both dinner and supper being served at two long tables on the lawn with a background of garden flowers and pretty bouquets on the tables. Homer McConnell, the oldest person present, invoked the blessing.

An afternoon sports program including baseball and horseshoe pitching for the men and games for the women, was enjoyable. Homer McConnell, aged 79 years, was the oldest member of the family present and wee 22 months Corrine Clemens was the youngest.

The reunion marked the second of the kind in which members of the Gardner connection have participated, and it was decided to hold a similar event at the same time in 1938. Relatives are mostly from New Castle and near vicinity.

Entertains Club

Maxine Templeton entertained club associates Friday evening at her home on Boyles avenue.

Calvary Services Nearing Conclusion

All-Summer Bible Conference Now In Final Two Weeks Of Series

Evangelist Bob Ingersoll, of Saginaw, Mich., concluded an engagement at Calvary tabernacle on Sunday with three large services. Those of morning and evening were conducted in the Calvary Presbyterian church because of the cold weather; that of the afternoon was in the pavilion.

A capacity crowd attended, the largest ever witnessed in the church, when Rev. Ingersoll told his life story Sunday evening. Duets were offered by Merle Watkins and John Fleck, students of the John A. Davis Memorial Bible school, and the latter also played a trumpet solo.

A little less than two weeks remains of the all-summer Bible conference program. Rev. and Mrs. Max Harvey, youthful musical messengers, will be the final speakers, beginning tonight at 7:30, and nightly except Monday through September 19. All services will take place in the Calvery church building, instead of the pavilion.

Strange School To Open Monday

Seventy Year Old Pupils To Gather At Elgin, Ill., Next Week

(International News Service)

ELGIN, Ill., Sept. 7—What is probably the strangest school in the United States will open here next Monday.

It is the school of maturates and has 50 pupils nearly all of whom are 70 years old or more.

Founded by Dr. Charles E. Sharp, kindly 78-year old physician who has practiced here for 50 years, the school was scheduled to open last Monday, but was postponed a week because of the increase of infantile paralysis cases.

The school is free and has a dormitory on the second floor, where pupils too old to travel about on cold days may stay without charge.

Dr. Sharp established the school principally for old people, both men and women, whose interest and incentive in life have faded with the years, many of them alone with all their relatives and friends dead.

One of the pupils to report Monday is Mrs. Flora Kee, 71. She said: "My family is gone, I am a widow and I hope to make new friends at the school. I want to study psychology."

3 HOUR PARKING 10c FOR PENN PATRONS—LAWRENCE AUTO CO.

AROUND CITY HALL

In pursuance to state law the city council convened yesterday, Labor day, but transacted no business. According to the Third class city code council must convene at 10 a. m. each Monday morning. The next session will be held Friday.

Labor day traffic accidents in the city were few. One person was hurt early today when he either leaped or fell from an auto in South Jefferson street. He was taken to the New Castle hospital for treatment.

Although Mayor Charles E. McGrath asked autoists to be courteous and not park in Washington street along the route of the Labor day parade, many motorists did not honor his request. Parking fees are not charged on holidays.

It will not be long until all of the city police, firemen and other employes have had their vacations and operations will again become normal. Some of the employes took only one week's rest in order to be free for the deer season.

Only a few days remain until Police Chief R. A. Criswell has another worry on his shoulders. It will be the direction of traffic before and after football games.

Park Services Closed Sunday

Ministerial Association Brings Union Services to conclusion

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH IN CHARGE

Although the weather was a little cool on Sunday evening a fine crowd attended the final union service conducted in the Cascade Park pavilion.

There have been twelve services offered by the New Castle Ministerial Association in this year's program, and the committee on arrangements was comprised of Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, chairman, and the Revs. John J. McIlvaine, A. M. Stump, P. C. Pearson and R. B. Withers assisting. Rev. Withers was in charge of the publicity.

When Rev. Shearer made the announcements during the final service he expressed the thanks of the committee to Chris Coulthard, park superintendent, B. Biondi for the use of the pavilion, to the various ministers with their choirs and ushers who conducted the services, and his personal appreciation of the work done by other members of the committee.

Sunday evening's service was arranged and conducted by the Rev. N. A. White, D.D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church and president of the New Castle Ministerial Association. The music was in charge of Edwin Lewis, who has just returned from New York City where he was studying.

The order of service was as follows:

Prelude by the brass quartet.

Congregational hymn, "Come, Thou Almighty King."

Invocation—Dr. C. B. Wingerd.

Anthem, "The Lord's Prayer," Forsyth-Kraft, sung by the chorus choir of the First M. E. church.

Scripture lesson—Rev. R. B. Withers.

Prayer—Rev. P. C. Pearson.

Announcements—Rev. Thomas B. Shearer.

Choral offertory—Choir.

Offertory solo, trumpet—Mr. Gorman of brass quartet.

Vocal quartet, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled," by Dickey—Mary Williams, soprano; Mrs. Helen Felch, contralto; David Jones, tenor and Samuel McCleary, bass.

Hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers."

Sermon—Dr. White. He chose for his subject, "Faith Triumphant." There are many denominations but just two kinds of Christianity, namely, vital and superficial. The message was thought-provoking and inspiring.

Hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun."

Benediction—Dr. White.

Dr. White brought to a fine ending what has been one of the best years of park services.

Fairview School Reunion Is Held

Twelfth Annual Gathering Takes Place At School Grounds On Labor Day

Former teachers and pupils of the Fairview school, gathered at the school grounds on Covert's road, Union township, on Labor Day, for the twelfth annual reunion.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon on the school grounds, and later, horse shoe pitching and other games were enjoyed. During the course of the afternoon, a business meeting was held in the school house, when the following officers were elected:

President, H. L. (Roy) Shaffer; vice president, Harry Lockley; secretary, Mrs. Selina Basline Abbott; treasurer, Edna M. Robison. The committee chairmen named were: Reception, Mrs. Anna Wallace Rodgers; menu, Mrs. Lizzie Wallace Brewster; table, Carl Rodgers, William N. Robison; coffee, W. Wylie Wallace; program, Dorothy Abbott; readings and speakers, Mrs. Frances Lamm Heckert; music and songs, publicity, Harry Gibson, Edna M. Robison; sports, Edward L. Coyne.

It was voted to have the next year's reunion on the second Saturday in August, with a program in the afternoon and picnic supper at 5 o'clock.

The following have passed away since the last reunion: C. R. McCombs, Mrs. Ethel Gwin Onash, Mrs. Bessie Wallace Coyne, Joseph E. Haney, Mrs. Fannie Robison Solars, Mrs. Eva Kerr Brown, Mrs. Clara Dannels Gormley, Mrs. Mattie Eppinger Ward.

Mrs. Lizzie Winter Flynn was the oldest lady present and received a prize, while Wilma Heckert, the youngest person was also remembered. Hattan Shaffer was the oldest man, with J. H. Bashline a close second. The youngest boy was Wilbur Abbott.

Group singing was enjoyed, and numbers were rendered by the Heckert sisters; and John Louden, while a quartet composed of Russell Haggerty, John Louden, John V. Brewster, and Ross P. Abbott, sang a number of quartet numbers. J. H. Bashline gave an interesting reading.

The school is also known as the old Wallace and Kelley school.

Terrific Storm Sweeps District

Heavy Lightning Discharge Accompanies Downpour Here Saturday Afternoon

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH STRUCK

New Castle was swept by one of the worst storms of the summer on Saturday afternoon, when a two-inch downpour of rain was accompanied by terrific lightning and considerable wind.

Cable lines of the Bell Telephone company were damaged in the Walmo and Oakland districts, but the storm did not put many phones out of service, District Manager Ray S. Tannehill stated today.

As far as can be learned no serious damage resulted from the storm. The Bethel A. M. E. church on Green street was struck, the bolt knocking the top off the chimney, doing damage of around $25. No fire followed however.

Dirt streets and roads were badly washed, and some trees were blown down by the wind. Several poles carrying the telephone cable along North Liberty street in the Oakland district were blown over.

Soviet Russia's Purge Continues

Sentences Even Include Charge Of Failure To Care Properly For Pigs

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Sept. 7.—Soviet Russia's purge of its internal enemies swept forward today with a series of death and prison sentences for wrecking and other alleged crimes—including failure to care properly for pigs.

Four counter-revolutionaries were sentenced to death at Gaysin in the Ukraine. Two more were given ten years in prison and another prisoner received an eight-year term for wrecking. It was announced this verdict was "approved by thousands of toilers."

Another group of alleged wreckers were given summary treatment at Rostov-On-Don. Four were condemned to death, three were sentenced to ten years, one to six years, three to five years and one to one year in prison.

Trial of seven more wreckers began in the Kiloushkinsky district of the Black Sea region. They were charged with systematic anti-Soviet activity. One of the accusations against them was that 117 of 120 pigs entrusted to their care died.

Christian Endeavor Group In Session

County Organization Meets In Plaingrove Home; Hears Reports

Over 60 persons attended the September meeting of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union recently in the Plaingrove home of Miss Gertrude Eppinger.

Miss Frances Thompson and Louise Davies presided over the social period which preceded the customary business session. David Lewis of the First Congregational church reported the 36th International Christian Endeavor convention held at Grand Rapids, Mich. in July and then Miss Geraldine Fry, president of the Lawrence county unit, introduced speakers who told of the Pennsylvania Summer Assembly at Bucknell university in August.

Bernice Cleland, Butler; Margaret Offutt, Harold Offutt, Harold Glenn, Walter Rodgers, Gertrude Eppinger, Blanche Gardner and Ed Gardner from Plaingrove, led the speakers, and others were Nancy Robinson of Westfield, Freda Campbell and Geraldine Fry of the Central Presbyterian in New Castle.

The Western District meeting and the state executive meeting will take place in the high school in Kittanning on Saturday, September 25.

Guard Moscow Italian Embassy

Police Are Stationed Around Embassy Following Charges By Soviet

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Police guards have surrounded the Italian embassy in Moscow as a result of Soviet charges that Italian submarines torpedoed Russian ships, the London Daily Mirror reported in an undated dispatch today.

The Mirror said the guards were stationed around the embassy after Soviet protest meetings and demonstrations were held. It added Italy's reply to the Russian charges were considered the "limit of arrogance" in Moscow and that Soviet Dictator Josef Stalin was reported to have been "deeply insulted" by the Italian attitude.

Stalin, according to the Mirror story, summoned other high Russian government and Communist party officials to a meeting at which measures for protecting Soviet merchant ships were believed to have been discussed. The paper said these possible measures included dispatching Soviet submarines and destroyers to the Mediterranean.

If a man reached the beyond and found there was no reward for all his self-denial and virtue, that would be hell.

New Books Added To Public Library At Bessemer, Pa.

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Sept. 7.—It will be of interest to the Bessemer people to know that there has been added to the shelves of the Bessemer Public Library the current best sellers—And so-Victoria, by Vuaghan Wilkins and Northwest Passage, by Kenneth Roberts. Other books, including such favorites as Beam Ends by Errol Flynn, American Doctor's odyssey by Victor Heiser, Mathematics for the million by Lancelot Hogben, Gone With the Wind by Margaret Mitchell, Drums Along the Mohawk by Edmonds, Revolt of the Masses by Ortegay Gasset, and White Banners by Lloyd Douglas, have also been added.

Other noteworthy purchases are a new and complete set of 25 vol. of Carpenter's travels, a set of nature books, and many books of interest to the teen age boy or girl. There is also a number of light fiction including several detective stories.

In the juvenile room the children will be delighted to find a large selection of new and exciting books. There are many stories of children of other countries, such as, Bibi: a little Danish girl. Nadita, and others which we know will appeal to boys and girls.

Child Run Over By Father's Car

Brakes Fail To Hold As Tot Runs In Front Of Machine Sunday Evening

Little Michael Ferry, aged 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferry, of Blaine street, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, in a serious condition, as a result of being run over by his father's car, Sunday evening at 6:50 o'clock, in front of the Ferry home.

The little tot ran into the street to greet his father as he was returning home, and the father was forced to slam on his brakes hurriedly. The emergency brake failed to hold, and the car knocked the youngster down and ran over him.

He was removed to the hospital, where it was stated this morning that his condition is serious, he having passed a restless night.

JOB CALLED SECURE

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—J. H. Richmond is one man who is pretty sure that his job is safe.

He received a letter of congratulation from Multnomah county commissioners on his 51st anniversary as tender of the Morrison street bridge. The commissioners assured Richmond they hoped he would "continue the good work for many years to come."

Correct this sentence: "He disputes any statement with which he disagrees," said the lady, "but he is naturally very modest."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Wind-Rain Storm Hits Liberty Street

Poles Blown Over And Streets Washed Out Along Liberty Street Saturday

Several poles were uprooted and a number of others given a slanting angle by the high wind and heavy rain storm of Saturday afternoon, along Liberty street.

Most of the damage done by the storm was between Oakland and the business district of the ward on Liberty street. Many of the streets on the hillsides were washed out, with a lot of earth being carried down on Liberty street.

An exceedingly strong wind seemed to sweep down through this district during the rain Saturday and threatened for a while to do more damage.

CHOIR MEETS AT PARK RESIDENCE

Robert Park, Cherry street, entertained members of the choir of the Madison Avenue Christian church, when they gathered in his home recently.

Following a short practice a delightful social time was enjoyed and later a luncheon was served by the host, aided by Miss Sue Clark.

MADISON AVENUE CHRISTIAN

Ladies Aid Society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. McCartney, Clayton street, at 2:30 o'clock.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening. Choir practice immediately following prayer meeting.

Crusaders' class meets Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Culbertson, West Madison avenue.

BEATRICE DAVY CLASS

Mrs. John Phillips will be hostess to members of the Beatrice Davy class of the Mahoning Methodist church, when they gather in her home on North Cedar street Thursday evening at 6 o'clock for a tureen dinner.

Church Group At Mrs. C. H. Clark's

Regular meeting of the Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church was held at the home of Mrs. C. H. Clark, Mount Jackson road, on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. W. W. Waide, presided over the business session. Plans were made for many future activities. On November 18, a chicken and noodle supper was planned by the society to be held in the church.

Next meeting of the group will be on the first Friday in October, in the home of Mrs. R. A. Franklin North Cedar street.

Car Is Ditched On Liberty Street

An automobile driven by Joseph Smolinski, Vogan street, left the road in front of the Crawford-Oakridge home on Liberty street, and landed in the ditch, Saturday afternoon.

According to the driver of the car, he was watching a fire on Liberty street, and drove too close to the edge of the road. His machine was caught in the soft side of the road and slid into the ditch.

METHODIST ACTIVITIES

Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church, announced the following activities for the coming week:

Tonight at 6 o'clock members of the Look-Out Bible class of the church will meet at the church for a regular meeting and tureen supper. This will be the first regular meeting of the month.

Changes have been made in the meetings of the choir and regular mid-week prayer meeting. Choir practice will be held at 6:45 o'clock on Wednesday evening, instead of on Friday, and the prayer meeting time will be changed to 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

The G. I. A. of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will meet on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Legion Home for their regular meeting.

Following the business meeting a social time and lunch will be the order of the program. Following committee will be in charge of the meeting: Mrs. J. A. Hunter, Mrs. Henry John, Mrs. W. A. Keeley and Mrs. W. J. Klingensmith.

WILL CLEAN CHURCH

Refuse Appeal For Delay From Bethlehem Co.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7—The national labor relations board today rejected the Bethlehem Steel company's appeal for postponement of the company's appearance before the board Wednesday to answer charges of unfair labor practices in violation of the Wagner Act.

The board also refused the company's request for a bill of particulars on charges that it had used industrial spies, armed gangsters and other unlawful practices in breaking the strike of the committee for industrial organization.

Board officials said the hearings will be opened at Franklin boro, Penn., as ordered, despite the company's plea that insufficient time was granted, to prepare for them.

WEATHER REPORTS

Indicate that coming temperatures will drop to sub-zero levels bringing intense cold and discomfort to those unprepared to meet the emergency. The cold will be accompanied by much snow and ugly weather.

Be Ready for SUB-ZERO WEATHER

Last winter many homes were greatly inconvenienced by delays in installing heating systems at the last minute. When cold weather arrives plumbing and heating installers are hard to get and their services are obtained only at a premium. Profit by last year's experience and be among those who will be prepared when cold weather comes. Call Sears now and arrange to have your heating plant installed AT ONCE.

Report Chicago Moonlight Murder Mystery Is Solved

Racket Revealed Authorities Say

Herbert W. Lee Slain—Two Admit Crime, Police Declare After Probe

GIRL COMPANION WILL BE ARRESTED

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 7—A vicious, highly organized night-life racket with pretty girls used as robbery lures was revealed today in the announcement of the state's attorney's office that the moonlight murder of Herbert W. Lee had been solved.

Confessions were obtained from two of the three men involved in the killing of Lee sixteen days ago in Grant Park, according to assistant's attorney Emmett Moynihan.

At the same time, Moynihan declared that Lucille Buehler, Lee's companion when he was slain, had been so deeply involved that he would seek her indictment on murder charges along with the others.

Claim Crime Admitted

The two who admitted taking part in the fatal robbery plot, according to Moynihan and assistant prosecutor Harry Posner, were Leonard W. Doxey, 31, a sweetheart of the Buehler girl and alleged vice racketeer; and Albert ("Rags")" Minella, 31.

They named Anthony ("Sappy)" Sappeniezo as the man who fired the fatal shot, Moynihan said. Sappeniezo, detectives reported has fled the city with his wife and three children.

Miss Buehler, despite the accusation of the prosecutors, still denied today she had been implicated in the plan to rob Lee which resulted in his death. The two men in custody likewise absolved her of guilt.

Balks At Hold-up Attempt

Lee, according to the stories of Doxey and Minella, as related by Moynihan was killed when he balked at the holdup attempt, Sappeniezo, they said, fired when Lee was wrestling with Minella. The first bullet struck the robber and it required a second to kill Lee.

In the confession, Moynihan quoted the men as saying they had lost all their money gambling and called on various girls in the night life resorts to locate a "chump."

Minella, it was said, explained: "We've had twenty or more racket girls in those joints. But none of them could dig up a good bet that day. At last Doxey told us about Lucille having a date with this Lee. We decided to take him."

Lieut. Thomas Kelley said the men used the night club entertainers, hostesses and party girls as lures. Working on a split-fee basis they found which customer had a lot of money and if he looked like an easy victim. They then tipped off the men who followed the "chump" until they found a likely place for the robbery.

Receives Cut When Auto And Truck Meet

Raymond Jenkins, 1512 East Washington street, drove a truck which he stopped in Cedar street to fix a street light. Howard Morgan, 301 Preston avenue, reported he swerved his car to avoid an oncoming car and it collided with the Jenkins truck which was beneath the light. Miss Whitlow Morgan, sister of Howard, sustained a cut on her chin, he told police.

Charles Phillips, 626 Raymond street, drove a car south on North Jefferson street which was in a collision with a car with Pennsylvania license 13F62, which was turning left from North Jefferson street into Grant street. The accident occurred at 12:45 p. m. yesterday.

Traffic Control By Airplane Is Seen As Feasible

Crime Detention Also Can Be Aided It Is Believed By Motor Patrol Head

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1937, by International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—Traffic control and crime detection by airplane were seen as feasible today by Percy W. Foote, commissioner of the Pennsylvania motor police.

What started out to be only an experiment was transformed into definite conclusions by the commissioner that:

1. Six airplanes in direct communication with eight central broadcasting stations, which, in turn, would be in constant contact with some 300 police cruiser cars, could go a long way toward controlling traffic on the state's highways.

2. By the same system of rapid-fire communication, fleeing criminals could be tracked down more readily.

Yesterday, the commissioner, accompanied by State Pilot Capt. William Moore and this correspondent, scoured the commonwealth's highways from the clouds, following the main arteries of travel.

Reports of traffic conditions were transmitted by Moore to four central stations, in Camden, N. J., Harrisburg, Buckstown and Pittsburgh. These reports, in turn, were forwarded to motor police headquarters and radio stations, informing the travelling public and police authorities of traffic conditions.

Late Potato Crop Condition Serious

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Sept. 7.—Conditions of the late potatoes in Mercer county is daily becoming more serious, and large acreages have already been destroyed by the blight, which resulted from the wet weather followed by extreme heat.

Potato growers with all equipment necessary for spraying found themselves unable to get into their patches with their spraying machines.

John McDowell on the Mercer-Sandy Lake road, the most extensive grower in the county reports his patch of 50 some acres as badly hit.

Reports from the corn crops of the county all tell of bumper crops unless caught by frosts.

Is Improving From Injuries

According to a report today, Mrs. Edward Welkenbach, who is confined to her home on West Washington street extension with injuries sustained in a fall last Thursday she is getting along nicely.

While crossing the street in front of her home, at 10:30 o'clock Thursday evening, Mrs. Welkenbach was unable to see a number of stones by the side of the road because they were hidden by the high weeds. She stumbled on the stones and was thrown into the ditch.

A doctor was summoned and it was found that she had broken one rib and cracked three others.

COLOR BLIND PICKERS

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 7.—When tomato growers in this area complained to the state employment agency that some of the pickers sent them were picking green tomatoes, the agency investigated. The result of the investigation was that now all applicants for tomato picking jobs are given tests for color blindness.

State Contributes To Traffic Safety

One Of Twelve States Adopting Simplified Motorist Arm Signals Recommended

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 7.—Pennsylvania is one of the twelve states which have contributed to traffic safety by adopting the simplified motorist arm signal recommended by the Uniform Motor Vehicle Code, according to Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Henry insists that arm signals required by the various states are too complex and too diversified. He believes all states should employ the system whereby the hand and arm are extended horizontally to warn of all chang- in direction or of stopping. Pennsylvania and 11 other states make this signal mandatory, he points out.

Hand signals in the other 36 states are so varied in nature as to confuse drivers, Mr. Henry argues. He points out how some states require swinging the arm, holding the fingers in certain positions, and waving the hand to signal changes of direction.

Distribute New Telephone Books

Large Increase In Listings Noted In Current Issue Of Directories

Work of distributing new telephone directories in New Castle and vicinity was started today, Ray S. Tannehill, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, stated. The task is expected to be completed by Thursday.

During the three-day interval approximately 11,550 directories will be delivered to the homes and business establishments of telephone subscribers, a gain of 800 books over the previous issue. Mr. Tannehill estimated that there has been an increase of more than 900 listings since the last directory was published. This brings the total number of listings in the white pages of the new book close to 10,500.

"In addition to the new listings," he declared, "many others have been changed. Consequently, telephone users will save considerable time if they will consult the new directory for the correct number before placing calls.

"It is of particular importance," he continued, "for subscribers to check the numbers to be used for fire, police and other emergency calls, so that no time may be lost should their use be required."

The world improves. With nations at war, we can now be good citizens without believing anybody guilty of bayoneting infants.

Large Airplane Visits Local Port Sunday

Large Fokker Eight Passenger Airplane Finds Difficulty Landing Here

A large eight passenger Fokker airplane flown by Edward Price, Altoona, encountered a bit of difficulty in putting in at the local airport on the Youngstown road Sunday.

The ship was enroute to Cleveland, O., from Altoona and made a short stop here for rest, water and fuel.

Due to the work being done on the airport at the present time, this large plane found it difficult to land. With the aid of local airplane pilots, however, he made a safe landing along the new runway of the port.

Japan Moves To Finance Warfare

Special Session Of Diet Authorizes Budget For Military Purposes

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Sept. 7—In complete accord with the government's desire to rush through Japan's war measures, the special session of the diet today passed the huge supplementary budget demanded of military authorities to finance the conflict with China.

The supplementary budget calls for an outlay of more than 2,000,000,000 yen or approximately $579,000,000.

Foreign minister Kohi Hirota, in an address to the diet, declared the Sino-Soviet non-aggression pact which recently was signed "cannot be over-looked....In view of the remarkable activity of the Soviet Union in connection with the spanish affair."

Contending by inference that Russia would be equally ready to take a hand in the Sino-Japanese conflict, Hirota said "serious attention will be plaid to the activities of communists in China.

Need Teachers In Mercer County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Sept. 7.—That there has been a break in the depression is evidence of a lack of teachers for the rural schools of Mercer county.

During the depression years there was a great surplus of teachers, but with the opening of the present school year in the rural districts the reverse is reported to be the case. The county superintendent's office is receiving calls for teachers.

In some cases teachers who have been elected have resigned to accept other employment and difficulty is being experienced in finding suitable teachers.

Phebus, Rookie Blanks Red Sox

Washington Right Handed Rookie Hurls Masterpiece; Gives One Hit

GIANTS INCREASE LEAD TO 3 GAMES

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Ray Phebus, a right handed rookie from Chattanooga, today has to his credit probably as fine a major league debut as one can find in the history of baseball.

Pitching for the Senators yesterday, he held the slugging Red Sox to one lone hit—by desautels—and while he walked seven, this was only natural in view of the fact that he was pitching before a hostile crowd. However, he never wavered in the clutches and came through with a shutout.

His fate was in contrast to that of Lefty Lee Grissom of the Reds who also pitched a one-hitter against the Cubs but lost, 2 to 1. Grissom fanned eight but was beaten when Cavaretta opened the eighth with a puny pop fly. Riggs booted one. Davis filled the bags with a fielder's choice and he himself uncorked a wild pitch which accounted for one run and Galan's fly produced the other. That's about as close as a man can come to earning a niche in the no-hit hall of fame and still not get it. Lady Luck was certainly looking out the window in that one.

The holiday produced some other sterling pitching performances. There was a three hitter by Ivy Andrews, a ten-inning four-hitter pitched in a losing cause by Danny MacFayden a winning four-hitter Curt Davis in the game Grissom lost, and one by Bob Feller a losing five hitter by Cy Blanton and winners of the same total by Hal Schumacher and Ted Lyons.

Winning six hitters were turned in by Bump Hadley, Lefty Grove, Boots Poffenberger, Paul Derringer, and Luke Hamlin.

The Day's play saw the giants increase their lead to three games by taking a pair from the Phils, 9-3, and 6-2, with Johnny McCarthy hitting a homer in each pastime.

The Dodgers beat MacFayden to the Bees, 2-1, and then Fette came through with his 17th victory to give the Bees a 6-4 decision over Hoyt.

The Reds beat Tex Carleton and the Cubs, 7-3 and then dropped that tough one behind Grissom, 2-1. The Pirates dropped one to the Cards, and Weiland, 4-1 and then won the ninth, 5-4 behind Bauers. Blanton had tough luck losing the first game, the Cards making three unearned runs when Cy's support went haywire.

In the other circuit, the Yanks fell on the A's for a double, 6-3 and 2-1, with Joe DiMaggio belting his 40th homer in the first game.

The Red Sox behind Grove beat the Senatory, 6-2 and then ran up against that amazing rookie Phebus and were blanked, 2-0. The White Sox copped the first with Lyons 2-1 and dropped the second by the same score. Feller fanned nine in this one—eight in the first four innings—and belted in the winning run.

The Tigers made a total of 32 and Hank Greenberg hit his 33d homer to beat the Browns, 10-9 and 5-2.

It was a hectic day with great crowds prevailing everywhere.

The choice of many particular men.

AUGOSTINE AT BAT

In a letter to The News, Fi Augostine, president of the Midget Softball League, claims that the Cyclones have no grounds in their claim for the midget league title. Augostine speaking:

"In the first place, they did not join the league because they do not have a midget team. All of their players are over 15 and they do not have any players under 15. They claim they won 38 and lost 2. They were beaten twice by the Saks Jrs., 12-5 and 23-7 and then lost to Midget League All-Stars 2-1."

The Titans play a seven-game schedule, four at home and three away, meeting the California Teachers, a newcomer in recent years, at New Wilmington on Homecoming day, Oct. 9. Games abroad include Slippery Rock, Oct. 16, and Thiel at Greenville, Oct. 30. Geneva, Edinboro adn Allegheny play on the Titans' home field Oct. 23, Nov. 6 and Nov. 13.

Men expected to report to the new Titan coaches during the opening days of the training season include Mel Miller, New Brighton, end; Dale Youkers, Butler, guard; Harry Shoup, Bessemer, quarterback; Lee Wright, Franklin, tackle; Frank Bretthole, Carnegie, tackle; Ken Grubb, Youngstown, end; Ralph Gilliland, New Wilmington, center; Julius Laposki, New Brighton, half, and John Susko, Struthers, O., tackle, all varsity men.

Others expected in the Titan camp on the squad include Dick Nickeson, Pittsburgh, back; Stan Lutton, Buffalo, N. Y., guard; William Hoop, McKeesport, end; Harold Cody, Sugar Grove, center; William Wise, Bethlehem, back; Roy Peacoe, Pittsburgh, back; Chalmers Weaver, Erie, back; Don Hood, New Castle, guard; Russell Dahlburg, Lakeside, O., guard; Irvin Moore, Youngstown, O., back; Robert McCaslin, New Wilmington, back, and George Anderson, Fredonia, back.

With more than fair prospects from incoming freshmen, Coach Washabaugh hopes to put at least 30 men through the hardening process during the first week of practice.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Thinking out loud: Strong, silent men, those Giants . . . they win or lose without emotion . . . you'd think a ball club that overcame a seven-game lead to reach the top during the merry month of August would celebrate or something . . . but they take it in stride, without even much comment among themselves.

These are not like the old Giants of McGraw's days . . . McGraw's Giants were wild men . . blustering, fighting, shouting . . . but Terry's Giants are different . . . they just go rolling along . . . they have courage . . . a team without it could have quit back there in the middle of August when the Cubs seemed to have the bunting in the bag . . . the Giants lack the color of the Cardinals . . . and don't mix much drama with their style . . . but they have courage of a high order . . . in a way they are like Terry . . . he takes the blame without offering excuses when they lose.

The Giants always are trying . . . always hustling . . . always wide awake and ready to take advantage of any break that comes their way . . . they are not all great ball players . . . but they are well balanced as a ball club . . . and each man goes about his chores in a workmanlike way.

Taking the team apart, and examining man for man, the Giants do not seem to me to be a pennant-winning ball club . . . But Terry has molded them into the toughest team in the league . . . a machine that never weakens.

* * *

Those who watched Tommy Farr belt Louis with those right hands must hold high the chances of Max Schmeling to repeat his knockout victory over the Bomber . . . Joe took some swinging rights from the Welshman, but most of them landed high up on his cheek . . . Roxie Lawson of the Tigers should find some way to rest his nerves during the off-season . . . he has won three ball gams for the Tigers recently by a score of 3 to 2, and one by a 6 to 5 count . . . Maybe the American track men who ran rings around the Japanese in Tokio thought they were in Shanghai. . . . Pitcher Slick Castleman of the Giants faces the probability of an operation on his spinal column this fall . . . a Memphis specialist will examine him when the team reaches St. Louis Sept. 19.

* * *

The rumor persists that Joe Vosmik will go to the Red Sox after the season ends . . . Billy Evans, who has built up a farm system for Boston, always liked Vosmik as a player, and has urged that the Hub club pick him up if it's possible . . . Evans, by the way, has reared a formidable farm organization for Mr. Yawkey . . . the Red Sox control about 200 minor league players now . . . and under Evans' direction are nine minor league clubs, seven of which have been in the first division all season, one a sure pennant winner, five with a good chance to cop a flag . . . the clubs are Minneapolis, of the American Association; Hazleton of the New York-Pennsylvania league; Canton in the Mid-Atlantic; Danville of the Bi-State; Mansfield of the Ohio State league; Moultrie of the Georgia-Florida circuit; Rocky Mount of the Piedmont league; Clarksdale of the Cotton States league; Little Rock of the Southern.

* * *

Jim Bagby, Jr., son of the former Indians' pitcher, has shown promise working for Hazleton, and may wear a Red Sox uniform next year . . . Something funny about that Notre Dame football roster this fall . . . there are five Sullivans, four Kellys, two McMahons and three O'Neills . . . Those Senators may get some pitching help from the Eastern Shore league this year . . . Clark Griffith has a string on Jorge Comellas, young Cuban, with Salisbury, who won 20 straight before being beaten the other day.

College All Stars Whip Chicago Bears

Twenty Thousand Fans Watch Art Guepe Steal Show From Sammy Baugh

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 7.—Southern football fans today were singing the praises of Art Guepe, fast moving quarterback from Marquette university.

Guepe stole the show from Sammy Baugh of Texas Christian, who was expected to lead the attack, as the college all-stars whipped the powerful Chicago Bears of the National Professional league, 6 to 0, here last night.

Guepe ran 24 yards off tackle in the second period, for the only touchdown, while shortly before he sprinted 43 yards before he was dragged down from behind on the 3-yard stripe. In the fourth quarter, the little Marquette back took a short pass from Sammy Baugh and ran 47 yards, again being hauled down from behind, this time by Beattie Feathers on the Bears' 7-yard marker.

Twenty thousand persons saw the game.

Lloyd Pine To Battle London At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 7.—A pair of topnotch featherweights are headlined on the annual Youngstown Police Fund boxing show at Idora Park on September 8. Lloyd Pine, hard-working Akronite, and Danny London, eastern sensation, collide in the main attraction over the 10-round route.

Pine has just returned from a successful southern tour where he garnered several victories at New Orleans. He is popular in the valley, being noted for his willingness to "mix it."

London has scored victories over Pete DeGrasse, Various Milling, Harry Jeffra and other well known lightweights. He is another fighter of the slam bang type. Tossed in with a worker like Pine the go should provide plenty of real thrills.

Matchmaker Al Zill is lining up four topnitch six-round preliminaries. In the semi-final go a six-rounder, Ted Keating, Canadian 180 pounder, meets Bud Mellinger, of McKeesport, Pa.

The entire proceeds of the show go to the police for their insurance fund. It is expected that upwards of 8,000 fans will be present.

TO MEET

Members of the Saks Juniors softball team are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

FOLLOWING INSTRUCTIONS!

Little Peter, aged five, had been receiving a lesson on politeness.

"And, remember," said his father, "when you are in a street car and a lady comes in, and can't get a seat, you must jump up and say, "Take my seat'."

A few days later they were in a street car, and as it was very crowded, Peter sat on his father's knee. People were filing in, and when a pretty young lady approached, up jumped Peter.

"Take my seat!" he said.

Cardinals Top Ryantown, 8-4

Crowd Estimated At 2,500 Persons Watches Exciting Game Sunday

SECOND GAME OF SERIES TONIGHT

Getting to Hartman for enough hits to produce six runs in three innings, the scrappy West Side Cardinals defeated Ryantown, 8-4, at Ryantown, as close to 2,500 persons looked on. As a result, the Cards hold a one game edge in the series for the West Side.

Trailing by six markers, the Ryantowners came to life and scored four runs in the third. This was as far as they got. Chill plastered out four hits. Houston, aside from hurling effective ball, smashed out three hits including a double. T. Mayer, Kozella and Neyman provided the heavy stick work for the losers.

Ryantown and Cardinals will play again tonight at Lee avenue field, starting at 5:30 o'clock.

Raymond Mattocks Claimed By Death

Funeral Services Held Last Evening With Interment This Morning

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—The entire community was saddened by the death of Raymond K. Mattocks, aged 37 years, which occured on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at his home, 525 Wayne avenue, following a very brief illness of three days duration caused by multiple neuritis.

Mr. Mattocks was well-known in this district and had a wide circle of friends who were bereaved by his sudden demise.

Survivors are: His wife, Mary Evans Mattocks; two sons, Raymond Jr., and William, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mattocks, of Castlewood; one brother, William Mattocks, Crescent avenue; and one sister, Mrs. Helen Houk, of Castlewood.

Funeral services were held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock from the home. Rev. R. H. Little, of Vandergrift, a close former pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the services and Rev. Morrison, of Ellwood, a friend of Mr. Mattocks, read a number of his favorite hymns.

Interment was made this morning in the North Sewickley cemetery with six of his most intimate friends as pallbearers. Rev. Van Gorder, of the First Baptist church, of Butler, officiated at the services this morning.

Firemen Plan To Organize Band

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Members of the Franklin township volunteer fire department have decided to sponsor a band and on Thursday evening, September 9, they will hold a meeting in their hall at Frisco to make the necessary arrangements.

Ralph Miller and Joseph Stansfield compose a committee making the initial arrangements. A leader will be secured and the music will be furnished by the department.

Mrs. Paul Shaffer Entertains Guests

Shower Honors Mrs. William McIntyre, A Recent Bride, On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—In honor of Mrs. William McIntyre, a recent bride, her sister, Mrs. Paul Shaffer pleasingly entertained a group of friends on Saturday evening at her home, at Ellport.

Mrs. McIntyre before her marriage was Miss Kathleen Hayden, daughter of John D. Hayden, of Spring avenue. She is leaving very soon to take-up residence in Detroit, Mich., where her husband is employed.

Two tables of cards occupied the hours in an enjoyable manner with awards for high score going to Mrs. George Gerlach and Mrs. Andrew Jacoby. Assisted by another sister, Miss Connie Hayden, the hostess served tasty refreshments.

The guest of honor was presented with an array of very lovely gifts for use in her future home.

Mrs. Maud Challis Succumbs On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Maud Van Eman Challis, aged 52 years, of Wurtemburg, succumbed on Monday evening at the New Castle hospital following a short illness.

Mrs. Challis had resided in this vicinity her entire life-time with the exception of the past three years when she made her home in Jacksonville, Fla. On account of a pending operation, she returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Homer White, in Wurtemburg.

She is survived by her husband, William Challis; two daughters, Mrs. White and Miss Mildred Challis; one son, William of Detroit, Mich.; her mother, Mrs. Mary I. Van Eman of New Castle; one sister, Mrs. Olive Smiley of Line avenue, and one brother, Robert Van Eman of Hoover Heights.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Wurtemburg U. P. church with the pastor, Rev. J. E. Caughey, officiating. Interment will be made in the Wurtemburg cemetery.

The annual thank-offering will be held on Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock worship hour with Dr. Norma Dunning, a misionary to India, as the guest speaker.

Saturday: The annual Sunday school picnic will be held at the church beginning with a picnic dinner at noon.

Court Decision On Liquor Vote In N. Sewickley

BEAVER, Pa., Sept. 7.—President Judge Frank E. Reader has held that a qualified voter, as contemplated under the liquor control board act, does not necessarily have to be a registered voter.

Referenda on the sale of liquors in Chippewa and North Sewickley townships were thrown out because they did not have 25 per cent of the eligible voters as signers.

Citizens of South Beaver township, Bridgewater, Darlington township, Daugherty township, Fallston, Patterson township and Shippingport will vote September 14 on the question of liquors and beer. Patterson Heights and Hookstown will vote on the question of granting liquor licenses only.

W. B. A. PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Members of the W. B. A. will hold a picnic on Wednesday, September 8 at Ewing Park beginning with a sports program at 4 o'clock. The supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Reinheimer, of Ellport, announce the birth of a daughter at their home on Monday, September 6.

Mrs. Lola Wolfe Elected President

Local Woman Chosen President Of District Firemen's Auxiliary

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—The president of the Ellwood City Firemen's Auxiliary, Mrs. Lola Wolfe, was elected president of the newly organized auxiliary of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's Auxiliary.

The initial meeting of the district group was held on Sunday afternoon at the Roosevelt hotel in Pittsburgh and was attended by Mrs. Lola Wolfe, Mrs. Myrtle Lattimer and Mrs. Carl B. Kingston, officers of the local auxiliary.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Little of Vandergrift, vice president; Mrs. Reimenschnieder of Versailles township, secretary, and Mrs. Marie White of Connellsville, treasurer.

On October 17 the next meeting will be held, with the Versailles township auxiliary as hostesses.

Number 4 School Reunion Success

Former Teachers And Pupils Of Perry Township School Have Get-Together

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Number 4 school, at Pleasant Hill, in Perry township, was the scene of a merry gathering on Labor Day when former pupils, teachers and friends assembled for their second annual reunion.

This is one of the oldest schools in the township and through the years has sent out scores of young men and young women well trained and drilled in the three r's.

Many of these returned yesterday to the number of 84 coming from Pittsburgh, New Galilee, New Castle, Akron, O., Canton, O., and the surrounding sections, to renew school day acquaintances and to reminisce about the main events of their youth.

The president, George R. Nagel, opened the meeting, which was followed with prayer by Rev. Frank Conner, of Akron, O. The following officers were then elected for the coming year: president, Charles Marshall; secretary, Mrs. Effie Hazen and treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Kennedy.

Most interesting talks were given by Hon. Reuben Nagel, W. Z. Smith, Charles McCartney, George Nagel and many others.

There is always a touch of sadness about school reunions as remembrances of friends who have crossed the line are recalled.

Another reunion will be held in 1938 with the time and place to be determined by the officers.

Grangers Have Annual Picnic

Pleasant Hill Grange Picnic Is Most Successful Despite Rain

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Saturday was a gala day for members of the Pleasant Hill grange for it marked the occasion of their annual picnic, which was held this year at their hall on the Ellwood-Portersville road.

While it rained most of the day, the group, numbering 85, enjoyed a well-planned sports program at various intervals directed by Miss Lilabell Weingartner, Miss Frances Worrell and Howard Weisz.

Pomona Master and Mrs. W. S. Fullerton were special guests.

The high-light of the day was a most delectable dinner served at noon by a group of the grange ladies that left nothing to be desired in the way of culinary attainments. Most of the group remained for an equally appetizing supper.

On Tuesday evening, September 7, the regular meeting will be held. Thursday evening was the regular date but owing to the travelling flag program that night, the local grange changed their meeting night.

P. H. C. MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—This evening members of the P. H. C. will meet at 8 o'clock in the First National Bank building for their regular meeting. The Junior P. H. C. will meet at 6:45 o'clock at the same place.

Bellion-Cleland Wedding On Monday

Miss Helen Bellian Becomes The Bride Of Arthur Cleland On Labor Day

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—One of the loveliest weddings of the early autumn took place on Labor Day, September 6, in the St. Agatha Catholic church when Miss Helen Bellion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bellion, of Riverview, was united in holy matrimony to Arthur B. Cleland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Cleland, of Portersville.

Rev. Fr. R. D. Wilkey performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of a wide circle of friends and relatives of the couple.

A brocaded gown of white velvet, fashioned princess style, with a slight train and finger-tip length veil was chosen by the bride and her bouquet was of white roses.

Mrs. Stephen Daniels, of Webster, Pa., in pink satin, was the matron of honor. Miss Anne Mellock, of Charleroi, and Miss Winifred Pluso, of New Brighton, were bridesmaids and wore gown of pastel satin with picture hats and bouquets to tailsman roses.

Clarence Bellion, brother of the groom, served as best man and John Bellion, another brother, and Joseph Zippay, of Charleroi, were the ushers.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home for members of the immediate families. A bridal motiff was featured in all the appointments. In the afternoon, a reception and wedding supper was held for 150 guests, many coming from a distance.

Late in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Cleland departed on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and the New England states. The bride is a graduate of the local high school with the class of '34, and the bridegroom graduated the same year from Portersville high school and is new employed by the National Tube company. Mrs. Cleland is affiliated with the Sanitary Dairy company.

Returning home, they will reside in a newly erected and furnished home near Riverview.

A. L. Varner Is Given Surprise

Sixty-Five Friends Attend Birthday Celebration Held Saturday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—A. L. Varner was completely surprised on Saturday evening when a group of friends and neighbors assembled at his home, on the Ellwood-Zelienople road, to aid in celebrating the occasion of his birthday anniversary.

The guests, numbering 65, many from Bakerstown, Gibsonia and Beaver, spent the hours in a pleasant manner with square dancing as the popular diversion. Appropriate music was contributed by Clyde Pander and Frank Peffer.

At a late hour, an appetizing repast was served by Mrs. Varner aided by Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Edward Daufen and Mrs. John Nagel. A prettily decorated birthday cake was a feature of this period.

To mark the occasion as a memorable one for the guest of honor, the guests presented him with a collection of very nice and useful gifts.

Nagel Reunion Held On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Descendants of Andrew and Lena Koach Nagel held their annual reunion on Labor Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Druschel, of near Fombell.

Assembling early in the day 44 members of the family enjoyed the day immensely with sports of various kinds, including ball games and bingo, occupying the attention of everyone.

At noon and the evening meal hour the group enjoyed delicious picnic meals. The following officers were elected to serve: president, Henry Druschel; vice president, Edward Daufen; secretary, Mrs. Alice Nagel and treasurer, Mrs. Alice Nagel; and sports, A. L. Varner, Mrs. Fred Swick and Mrs. Frank Smity.

Out-of-town relatives were: Mr. and Mrs. John Nagel, of Beaver, Mrs. Walter Agnew and Mrs. M. S. Agnew of Zelienople.

Mrs. Catherine Druschell was the oldest member in attendance and Ruth Ellen Varner, the youngest.

The reunion next year will be held on the Saturday before Labor Day at the Druschell home.

Zikeli-Aldrich Wedding Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7. — A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when Miss Katherine Zikeli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zikeli, of Line avenue, became the bride of Robert Aldrich, at the bride's home.

Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was attractively attired in a flowered chiffon dress with which she wore brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zikeli, Jr., were the attendants, the former being a brother of the bride. Mrs. Zikeli wore a rust crepe ensemble and the bride and her attendant wore shoulder corsages of roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served the bridal party and guests. Mr. and Mrs. Zikeli left on a wedding trip and returning home they will reside at Butler.

Local Students Leave To Enter Training School

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Schilling, the former being pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, left today on a motor trip to Nyack, N. Y.

They were accompanied by Miss Mary Lee Bell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Bell, of North Sewickley, Lloyd Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henry, Hazel avenue and Miss Lucille Baker, of Toledo, O., who are entering the Nyack Bible training school. Mr. Henry expects to graduate this year.

The Schillingers will return late this week after brief visits with relatives and friends in Wildwood, N. J., and Philadelphia.

Picnic Concludes Y. P. C. U. Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—As the result of an attendance contest held by members of the Y. P. C. U. of the Camp Run United Presbyterian church, the losers were hosts to the winners at a picnic supper held on Friday evening at William Robinson's Grove, on the Ellwood-Zellenople road.

The "Reapers" captained by Miss Ora Steffler, won the contest over the "Sowers" led by Otto Wagner.

Their was a very large attendance of members and friends at the picnic and it proved to be a most delightful occasion for everyone. Games and contests of a variety climaxed the event.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Reinheimer and children, of Ewing Park, have returned home following a fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. William Haus have returned to their home, at Frisco, after spending a week's vacation in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wehman and children, Betty and Jackie, of Burnstown, spent the week-end with relatives in Elyria, O.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nagel, of Beaver, were week end guests at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Edward Daufen, of the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

Mr. and Mrs. Audley Brown and children, Marylin and Donald, of Mars, spent the holidays with the latter's mother, Mrs. H. B. Thornhill, of Frisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hazen and daughter, Frances, of Wurtemburg, and Mr. and Mrs. James Hazen, of the New Castle road, attended the air races at Cleveland during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McKee and family, of McKeesport, Mrs. Martha Davis and Charlotte McKee, of New Castle, were guests on Sunday at the home of Charles A. Miller and family, of Frisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira P. West, and family, of Fourth Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiesling and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson, of Wurtemburg, spent Labor Day at Lake LeBeouff.

Miss Bessie Burrows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Burrows, of Fountain avenue, left this morning for Evans City where she has accepted a teaching position in the public schools. Miss Burrows graduated from Geneve College last June.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gallaher, of Wurtemburg road, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frederick and children, Thelma, Ralph and Robert, of Rockdale, have returned home following a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Mecklem of Stoneboro.

It sounds hopeless. People can't have babies till they are more prosperous, and the prosperous won't have babies.

Isn't it remarkable how cutely the baby can show off ten minutes after the guests leave.

Firemen Answer Many Alarms As Storm Sweeps City

Little Damage Results From Effects Of Lightning Saturday Afternoon

Firemen answered seven alarms during the course of the storm Saturday afternoon, only one of which resulted in any fire damage, and this is not believed to have been a result of the storm.

A barn, owned by Peter Presnar of Oakland avenue, took fire at 2:35 o'clock, just as the worst of the electric storm was over, but is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion in green hay. A loss of around $135 was sustained. Firemen had to fork the hay out of the barn to get at the seat of the blaze.

The first alarm was sounded at 2:10 p. m. Saturday, when Mrs. C. H. Reeves of 305 Boyles avenue feared her house had been struck by a bolt which hit very close. Firemen could find no damage. A few seconds later, firemen were called to the homes of Norman Ehrlich and Mrs. J. DeLillo on Laurel boulevard, when the lightning went into the refrigerator at the Ehrlich home and blew out fuse plugs at the DeLillo home.

At 2:30 o'clock firemen were called to the Bethel A. M. E. church, where lightning struck the chimney, but caused no fire. A loss of around $25 was sustained.

At 2:20 o'clock firemen were called to Sampson street, when some of the people in that neighborhood thought their homes had been struck but firemen could find no damage.

Election Officers Appointed By Court

Judge W. Walter Braham Hands Down Appointments To Fill Vacancies

Judge W. Walter Braham at Lawrence county court this morning made a number of appointments to positions on election boards, vacancies having occurred during the past summer.

In the borough of Wampum, E. T. Algier resigned as judge of election, and James Robertson was appointed to fill the vacancy.

In the fifth precinct of the second ward, New Castle, Nona L. Vaughn resigned as judge and Gertrude M. Mitchell was appointed.

In the tenth district of the second ward Clair M. Holsinger resigned as inspector on account of moving away and Charlotte L. Cutright was appointed.

An entire new board was appointed in the second precinct of the sixth ward, where J. H. Workman resigned as judge, and Frank Jerry and Lena James resigned as inspectors. Their places were filled by the appointment of John J. Jones as judge and Ida M. Suber and Anna Cowan as inspectors.

In the sixth precinct of the second ward Bertha Milliken resigned as inspector and Edward H. Reimold was appointed.

In the third of Shenango township Joseph I. Weinschenk resigned as inspector and Mrs. Frank Miller was appointed.

There are several other vacancies which will be filled later.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

That was a very refreshing rain Saturday . . . in fact so refreshing that it became rather chilly . . . which would you prefer . . . last week's weather or over the week-end weather.

* * *

Sometime ago we started or rather stated the fact that New Castle didn't have enough entertainment for the younger people . . . too many were going out of town for entertainment . . . we asked for suggestions but it seems that they haven't any more than we do . . . however a couple of young men in town have been doing their best to bring good clean and enjoyable entertainment to town . . . two that have accomplished this feat and will bring Austin Wylie and his Orchestra to Cascade Park Friday evening . . . who are these men? . . . our two golfing friends . . . Conn and Mancine . . . how about staying off the road this week.

* * *

The 400 are not really as snooty as they make out . . . it's just the fact that so many bills face them that it makes them a little ashamed to speak to the common debtors.

* * *

The Labor Week Parade was a real event yesterday . . . this coming week should be a gala one . . . tickets bought for the show Saturday night will be honored any night this week.

* * *

I suppose you all drove carefully over the week-end . . . took no chances and we hope no one received a scratch . . . it's always pleasant to look back over a trip and say . . . no trouble at all.

* * *

We wish to welcome at this time all visitors to our fair city . . . we know a few are making their first trip to New Castle . . . we hope you like us . . . remember that old saying . . . "If you like us, tell your friends . . . If not tell us" . . . kindly do this please.

Stock Market Prices Lower

List Is Hit By Nervous Liquidation; Trading Is Moderately Active

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The stock market cracked 1 to 5 points today, on the new threats to peace that developed over the Labor Day week-end in the critical Far Eastern and Mediterranean fronts.

Trading was only moderately active, but pivotal issues sagged easily on small orders. All sections of the list were hit by the nervous liquidation, steels, motors, rails and coppers bearing the brunt of the selling.

Bethlehem was off nearly five points while U. S. Steel tumbled 4 before meeting support. Republic and National Steel each lost more than 2 points.

Kennecott Copper limited its decline to about a point but Anaconda dropped more than 2 along with American Smelting. International Nickel fell more than 3 points at one time.

Most active rail shares again were at new lows for the year. N. Y. Central lost 2 points, as did Southern Pacific and Atchison, while Pennsylvania and Illinois Central lost more than a point.

Chrsyler slumped 5 points to 101½ then recovered a fraction, while General Motors dropped close to 2 points in a weak motor section.

Johns-Manville was off more than 3 points, as was Loew's in the amusements and Douglas in the aviations. Westinghouse, American Locomtive, DuPont, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber and Boeing each declined around 2 points.

MARKING SPIRITUAL BIRTH

The City Rescue Mission is planning a spiritual birthday for Sam Smith at the Mission on Thursday evening, Sept. 9. Mr. Smith was converted at the Mission. Mr. Smith will tell his life story Thursday evening. There will be special music.

HUGE CROWDS SEE LABOR DAY PARADE

cruiser came city firemen carrying the United States flag and behind the colors came the first division with John Kennedy as marshal. Ivor Davis was the chief marshal of the day and the formation of the parade was splendidly arranged.

Legion Band Leads

With the first division was the American Legion band of the Perry Gaston Post. They presented a beautiful military band appearance as they marched ahead of the International association of fire-fighters and four pieces of city fire-combating apparatus.

City and county officials followed in motor cars and then came the B. M. P. I. U. local 17, in cars. United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, local 206, attired in white, followed. The Queen of Labor, Miss Violet Frankovitch, surrounded by her maids of honor, was next in line, on a beautiful float. Then came her sponsors in the contest the Journeymen Barbers of New Castle.

The second division was headed by Major Guy Waddinger, followed by the National Brotherhood of Potters and the Red Coat band. The Potters, local 133 had a large, splendid looking float.

The potters were attired in white and were immediately in front of the Pennsylvania Power Company float. The float was so arranged that it carried on the rear portion of the float, a frigidaire. The Woman's Label League was next in line.

Mine Workers Delegation

United Mine Workers of Brent local 6570 and Leesburg local 6570, followed their fife and drum corps. They had quite a representation and were followed by the Third Division with Sheriff Edward Pritchard as marshal. Immediately behind the marshal was the Union Veterans sons drum and fife corps.

The New Castle News float, superbly decorated with blue and white was the first float in the division. Immediately behind it came members of the International Typographical union of this city.

The B. & O. shop crafts were next in line and with them was one of the most unusual floats in the parade, an old time B. & O. engine, Number 207, and also an old-time passenger car, in which there were passengers clothed in the attire worn during the days that engines of its type operated.

The DeCarbo Express and the United Brewery workers followed with floats as did Union Labor with signs of Union candidates. Next came Johnson's Flower shop float. It was one of the most beautifully decorated in the parade.

A touch of gayety was enlivened when an auto came along with a monkey seated astride the hood.

Numerous Floats

The Cement Workers union was represented and toward the last of the float division came a nicely done float of the Theatrical Stage Employes and the Motion Picture Projections, locals 101 and 451, respectively.

The Teamsters and Helpers float, of local 261, was next, followed by the truckers on foot. Another touch of former days was added when a team of mules and an old-type surrey, pulled by a horse, came along.

The Sanitary Potters float on top of a truck demonstrated the difference between sanitation of yesteryear and today.

Numerous other organization and labor bodies were also represented in the line of march, the procession requiring about half an hour to pass a given point.

LABOR DAY SPEAKERS COMMEND LABOR ACT

not consider the rights of employes but only thought of making money.

Lichliter said that under the fair and honest governments set up by President Roosevelt in Washington and Governor Earle in Pennsylvania "all of us should be proud and happy to say we had a part in bringing the worker to his proper position."

Cites Legislation

"The act is here to give every worker a square deal" he asserted, after which he declared the legislature abolished private police, the anti-injunction act, abolished sweatshops, created fair hours for women, uniform safety measures and increased compensation and benefits, and the 44 hour bill.

He said these are examples of a good administration under the "great Earle" Lichliter said the legislature kept faith with the people and has done its best to give the people a fair and honest administration. He urged that "With Roosevelt and Earle let us stand together and carry labor forward, which labor justly deserves."

Attorney Barletta of Ellwood City followed Mr. Lichiter. He recited discharge of employes by Jones & Laughlin Co., at Aliquippa. He said the men were discharged without fear, due to a decision by supreme court in 1898; because the United States could not punish corporations which interfered with employes. He said that later the Wagner act was termed constitutional and the situation was changed.

He told of the attack made on the supreme court by President Roosevelt and said that while, what was on the written law book might be one thing, yet judges interpret it differently. Barletta followed with a discussion of the local political situation.

Lester Thomas, secretary of the state Federation of labor, who is a member of the U. M. W. of A., described the fight to establish a Labor day in the United States.

He related incidents at the convention last spring at Harrisburg and told of the situation as it then existed between the state A. F. of L., and the committee on Industrial organization. He urged that all try to maintain unity.

He said that "we have a Labor relations law which gives the right to workers to organize without interference by employers." Thomas said that there is not one organization of employers not banded together; after which the virtues of the Democratic party were extolled for its aid to labor.

Yes, belief saves people. But it isn't belief unless they are willing to work, sacrifice, live and die for it scenery, located on the west side of the field was a row of "footlights" which cast their rays over the performers thus enhancing the appearance.

The Red Coat band, under the able conductorship of B. J. Biondi, seated to the left of the theater added much, due to their uniforms and splendid music. Following an introductory number the band played a march and out of the theater and onto the green velvety-like stage strode Miss Civic Body surrounded by her aides.

Crowns Labor Queen

Next from the theater came Miss Violet Frankovich, due to be labor's queen.

The queen and her maid of honor escort were gorgeously gowned. In their rear came Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy, who said that both as a representative of organized labor and the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, he felt it a great privilege ad pleasure to be present at the celebration and pageant.

Kennedy then said that as a result of the selection of Miss Frankovich as queen of organized labor "it is my privilege and pleasure to crown Miss Frankovich as the queen of organized labor and to wish you and her a happy conclusion and greater prosperity." He then placed the crown on her head, saying:

"I pronounce her Queen of Organized Labor of this pageant." As the queen and her escort marched off the field, a small girl held the train of her dress. They marched straight to the theater, all white with a blue curtain, thus the pageant had been officially opened and the program got under way.

Program Presented

The next number was the Ballet of Creation. The girls were attired in blue and red, one being dressed in red and the other in blue. Later their number was added to by a group attired in blue and brown. With the appearance of them all in the ballet the crowd present broke forth in applause.

The third number of historical interest in the pageant was "The Coming of the Red Man." There were warriors and squaws, all attired in Indian clothing. There were tepees with red flares used as camp fires. With the lowering of the lights there was presented the sight of an Indian village at night. As they waved their flares or torches during the Indian dance the crowd again burst into applause.

The "Arrival of the First Permanent Settler" was next depicted. It was most complete. It included the old covered wagon. The lights played on the group and on the wagon bringing forth a realistic touch to the setting and the next scene was the "First Pioneer School." The boys and girls, attired in the costumes of those days, sat upon the grass while the teacher stood. They studied, then recited, after which a recess was given and the girls played ring-around-rosey and the boys leap-frog. It was so complete a scene that an erring boy was paddled by the teacher, thus proving even in pioneer days that the paddle was used.

Pioneer Church Scene.

The "first pioneer church" scene was next. The church-goers marched onto the green stage in twos. They went through the church service and the offering was taken. The minister gave thanks for the offering and while no words were spoken everyone present fully understood the significance of the scene because churches had much to do with the success of the early pioneers' lives in our country.

And then came the early pioneer wedding. To a selection played by the Red Coat band, there emerged onto the stage of the theater the bride and groom, clothed in wedding attire. To the strains of the wedding march the couple marched through an aisle made by their friends where they were "united in marriage". The clergyman brought a touch of applause when he kissed the bride after which a jollification scene at the union was enacted by the guests.

Next on the program was a soft shoe dance, a la Primrose by Miss Billy Glenn. She was dressed in a long green gown and danced to the tune of "The Old Folks at Home". This later with her companions shifted into an old time quadrille.

Jubilee Singers.

And then came the Jubilee singers, almost 100 of them. The ladies were dressed in white with black ties and the men were attired in white trousers, black coats and black ties. They sang two numbers which were enjoyed by the assemblage.

After an intermission part two, or the Melting Pot of the Nation, was present and consisted of 11 scenes. First came the United States Jackets, 25 girls, dressed in sailor white uniforms. They danced to "Anchors Away", marched sinble file, doubles came forward in fours and after drills, saluted the audience, and drew a big ovation.

The English came next, all small girls with blue and white dresses. They went through a series of drills and as they saluted also got a hand from the crowd. The Irish came next. They were dressed in green and white with shamrocks. They went through the dances the colleens enjoy and were ovationed as they saluted and marched to the rear of the green stage.

And then came the French girls in costumes of that land. They drilled and marched and like their predecessors drew an ovation. The Dutch were next and in costumes of that nation they danced to the song Auch Du Leiber. Some of the crowd broke into the song. It was a typical Dutch dance. They saluted and joined their companions.

To the number March de Petite came the Italian girls. They were dressed in the costume of Italy and drew an ovation. They went through an Italian dance. There were 10 girls in this dance, the same as the preceding numbers, saluted and received an ovation from the crowd and then came the Scotch.

Highland Fling.

To the tune of a lively bag-pipe number, played very well by the band, the girls did the Highland fling. They were dressed in kilties and after they did their number and saluted, received much applause and were followed by the Spanish, clothed as such, all of whom played tambourines as they danced in Spanish style . They also received a nice ovation for their performance.

Next came the Chinese and the Japanese . To the strains of music of those countries the girls and men danced—something different entirely from the representatives of other nations. They made a hit, after which came the Boys Scouts of America, and what a reception they got. The men and boys shouted vociferously and the women and girls applauded. . It might have been called a parade of the American flag. Alongside of it was the Boy Scouts banner. They drilled to and fro, and showed the knack of expert precision. They went over big and the sight was very inspiring.

And then all of the representatives of other nations with the United States flag and the queen of labor in the middle of a huge wheel appeared as the grand finale, thus ending the first night of the historical pageant presented by the John B. Rodgers Producing company. Performers will continue at the same time, same place tonight, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

It was reported by all those who visited the stadium that it was one of the most pleasing pageants they have witnessed. Everything was flashy and spectacular, yet nothing was hurried. A narrator explained every move through the public address system and the natural beauty of the football field, a green carpety stage, added much to the scene which had a theater in the rear as the background.

Two Are Dead In Auto Duel

Charge Auto Is Bumped Off Road And Over Embankment In Quarrel

(International News Service)

SILVER SPRINGS, Md., Sept. 7.—A duel on the open road—with automobiles as weapons—today held John C. Wingrove, 19, of Washington, in jail here charged with the death of two companions.

Police said Wingrove confessed he forced his companions automobile off a highway near here after a "bumping duel" which followed a quarrel in a local beer parlor early Monday morning.

Arnold Wolfe, 22, of Takoma Park, Md., and Roy Butler, 20, of Washington, were killed as their car slid down a steep embankment.

Police said Wingrove walked into the station to report he had forced the car, driven by Wolfe, off the road.

The quarrel began, police said they were told, over a girl, and continued as the two friends entered their automobiles. Wingrove told police that as they drove away the cars bumped, and that "we bumped each down the road for four or five miles."—until Wolfe's car slid off the road.

Wingrove, charged with "feloniously killing," reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident, was held under $1,500 bond. An inquest was scheduled for today.

Hold Three For Investigation In Counterfeit Case

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7.—Police today held a man, his wife and 15-year-old daughter, of Brooklyn, N. Y., for investigation by federal authorities in connection with a counterfeit ring believed to be operating in the vicinity.

The trio was arrested after a two-mile automobile chase early today. They gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Pius and daughter, Helen, of Brooklyn.

Police said the daughter attempted to hide $35 in counterfeit 25-cent pieces near the highway when the car in which she was riding with her parents was overhauled. No counterfeit money was found on the parents, police said.

Federal authorities said a second man who had been riding in the car when it was spotted in Washington, was not apprehended, but that he was reported later in Baltimore attempting to pass counterfeit bills in an automobile supply shop.

Green Condemns Sit-Down Strikes

Head Of A. F. Of L. Makes Labor Day Speech At Dallas, Texas

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 7.—Condemnation of sit-down strikes as an illegal weapon of the CIO was made by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor in a Labor Day speech.

"In the midst of labor's deepest concern over the problem of unemployment and other economic questions which press for solution the A F of L is forced to consider and deal with a new foe," Green said.

"It seems almost unbelievable that any group which professes to believe in the unity and solidarity of labor would deliberately crea' a split and division in the organized labor movement through the establishment of a dual, rival movement.

Etna Street Man Hurt In Accident

William M. Bauder, 40, Etna street, is a patient in the New Castle hospital, having either fallen or jumped from an auto at 2:45 a. m. Monday in South Jefferson street, according to a police report.

According to Officer George Perotta, he found Bauder lying in the cartway near the central fire department.

The car in which Bauder had been a passenger was standing by. He sent Bauder to the hospital. Mrs. Bauder and friends were with Mr. Bauder.

He may have a fracture of the skull, according to reports received by the police.

Miss Dorothy Atkins, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Barker, of Pontiac, Mich., have returned home after spending the holidays with Mrs. Anne Orend, of South Jefferson street, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Barker, of Park avenue.

Lewis Speaker At Pittsburgh

Makes Address At Huge Labor Day Demonstration In District

AVOIDS REFERENCE TO ANY 'THIRD PARTY'

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—John L. Lewis, fiery leader of the committee for industrial organization, was homeward bound today after aiding this huge industrial center in its biggest Labor Day celebration in half a century—a celebration which attracted the spotlight of the world.

Lewis was in a more philosophic mood than Pittsburgh had ever before seen the chieftain of the CIO. Only once during his Labor Day address did he flare up in sizzling excoriation of industrial leaders for which he is noted. He said:

"Eugene Grace and his puppet, Girdler, will not be allowed to discredit publicly or flagrantly flout the law in America. Both of these companies are a discredit to the steel industry in America. One of them had the reputation of being unfaithful to America during the war, and the other would also if it had the opportunity."

The beetle-browed orator completely ignored his feud with the American Federation of Labor despite the fact that William F. Green, president of the latter union and one-time associate of Lewis, blasted the CIO group for "welcoming Communistic support and methods."

Avoids "Third Party" Talk

He studiously avoided any reference to his reported break with President Roosevelt nor did he mention anything concerning the "third party," in which he voiced particular interest during his radio address.

County officials estimated that more than 150,000 persons heard the dynamic labor leader's speech. Thousands of others filled the picnic grounds and hillsides. The highways were jammed for hours before and after the program.

Lewis shared honors with Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy, secretary treasurer of the United Mine Workers, Philip Murray, head of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, and others also addressed the mammoth rally.

Swinging into an academic mein, Lewis prophesied labor trouble with man-made machines, explaining:

"The machine must be so managed as to extend, and not reduce, the field of employment that their great productivity must be accompanied by shorter hours of work, lower prices of output, and a general advance in mass purchasing power for economic well-being through all groups of the American people.

"Not for the selfish interest of labor as a group, but for the welfare of the country as a whole, labor must become strong enough to take its proper place at the counsel tables of industry and the nation.

"Without the support of labor, which constitutes two-thirds of our population, this great constructive problem of American democracy cannot be solved."

Then, relaxing from his scholarly attitude to excoriate Grace and Girdler, he thundered:

"These 'little steel' Nebuchadnezzars of modern America will soon be brought to judgment. They are now feasting with a most opprobious and discreditable crew of vigilantes, but the moving and prophetic hand in America is writing their debacle upon the wall of history."

Eintracht Singers' Performance Good

Men's And Women's Choruses Win Diplomas In Meet At Salem, O.

New Castle's Eintracht singing society and its Frosinn Ladies choir brought home honors from the biennial Transylvania-Saxon Sangerbund, which took place Sunday and Labor Day at Salem, O.

Two special busses and private automobiles carried over 100 singers and Eintracht friends to the Transylvania-Saxon country club, near Salem, for the competitive singing on Sunday and the mass chorus singing on Monday. W. A. Nischwitz, Youngstown, directed the New Castle groups.

The Eintracht men and the Frosinn Ladies choir won diplomas for their performance. An Erie group took the highest honors for the men, the "wandering flag".

Twenty-four singing societies from a wide area competed and chose Cleveland for the next bi-ennial sangerbund in 1939.

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 7—Westminster college's eighty-fourth year of collegiate activity opened today, with the first faculty meeting of the year, as a prelude to the newly introduced Freshmen Week program September 8-15, when only the newly arrived class of 1941 will be on the campus.

Wednesday's program opens with chapel services at 2 o'clock, with the faculty marching in academic procession, President R. F. Galbreath will address the freshmen class at chapel exercises, after which freshmen placements and examinations will take place 2:30-4:30. At 7:30 in the evening, cabinet members of the YW and YM will sponsor the Freshman Sing" in the college gymnasium.

Beginning Thursday, the freshmen will attend special orientation classes conducted by Dean A. C. Burr; Dr. Purdy, department of English; Dr. Donald Matthews, department of biology; Dr. Joseph C. Dewey, department of psychology and education; and Miss Mildred Allman, librarian. Classes will take up such problems as studying, learning the library, learning to study, reading comprehensively and easily and general college problems.

The annual "who's who" party, to get freshmen acquainted with one another, is scheduled in the gym for Saturday night; and the formal reception for freshmen women in Browne Hall set for Monday evening.

Registration opens Tuesday morning, September 14, with Freshmen; followed by sophomores Wednesday afternoon; juniors Thursday morning; and seniors Thursday afternoon. Regular classes convene Friday morning, Sept. 17.

Report Insurgents Make Advances

Claim Government Troops Are In Retreat In Valencia District

(International News Service)

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, France, Sept. 7—Insurgent advances on Spain's Aragon front were reported today in dispatches from the war zone, despite loss of the important town of Belchite by the rebels.

A communique from Salamanca stated Celerio, west of Llanes, had been occupied by rebel troops and that loyalists attacks on the Aragon front had been repulsed.

Dispatches from Valencia admitted the government troops in the north were in retreat toward Barro as a result of heavy insurgent pressure.

Belchite was completely occupied by government troops when 600 rebels holding out in the town's main church surrendered.

It was stated 1,700 rebel corpses were counted by the troops that occupied the town.

EXPECT SAME ENROLLMENT

Senior high school's enrollment on Wednesday the opening day of the 1937-38 term, will approach the 2,000 mark, the Senior high office indicated today. The attendance, it was said, would probably remain about the same as that of the 1936-37 term. Fewer post graduates however have registered for study this semester.

Kiddies Have Great Time At Cascade On Salvation Army Day

Lots Of Fun Between Showers Saturday For Crowd Of Two Hundred

In spite of difficult weather conditions, the Salvation Army entertained a group of approximately 200 underprivileged children of New Castle at its "Salvation Army Day" outing in Cascade park Saturday.

Early in the morning the local headquarters of the Army was jammed with laughing, anxious kiddies waiting for the time to go. At 8:30 a. m. local workers marched the group up to the public square where street cars were waiting to transport them to the park, and soon the kiddies were off for "a day at the park".

"Hey, the Dodg'em is working." "Come on, let's ride the merry-go-round." "Oh, boy, next on the Old Mill." Joyous shouts such as these filled the air as the kiddies enjoyed rides on the concessions at the park which were kindly donated by the owners. Over in the athletic clearing children could be seen hopping to the finish line in a two-legged race, or an all-fours race or one of the other races which featured a recreational program which was later "washed out" by the rain.

The main attraction, of course, of the day was the picnic dinner and squeals of delight could be heard as the children gathered at the tables in the grove and enjoyed a fine dinner, the foodstuffs for which were so kindly donated by generous merchants of the city.

At the close of the day the children boarded street cars again and were transported back to their homes. The transportation to and from the park was arranged for through the cooperation of the New Castle Rotary club. The local officers of the Salvation Army wish to thank the merchants and business men of the community who so kindly aided in making this pre-school outing for the kiddies a success.

He's Too Young.....!

ANDREW M. DODDS

The heading of this advertisement is no attempt at humor. It is not written as a "catch line" to attract attention. It is the one and only excuse advanced by my opponents to get votes away from me for the Republican nomination for Register and Recorder.

"He's too young". It might be serious charge if it were not so ridiculous. It is being circulated by one of the chief supporters of one of my opponents, a gentleman who himself has been one of the chief exponents of the "youth must be served" idea in politics. A gentleman who has offered himself upon the altar of public service a number of times but for some reason has not been accepted by the people. Perhaps he was "too young."

As to the facts in the case, my age is 37, if that is important. The constitution permits a man to be president at 35. If 37 is too young to be Register and Recorder of Lawrence County then the people who elected such United States Senators as La Follette, Nye, Holt, and many others must be wrong. If 37 is too young to be Register and Recorder of Lawrence County somebody must have slipped in letting that 33 year old youngster, Thomas Jefferson write the Declaration of Independence.

Too young at 37? It's a laugh. But then when your opponents haven't anything real to talk about they must smoke up a synthetic reason. I solicit the votes of all Republicans on September 14th.

ANDREW M. DODDS.
